Dulles Says Formula for Allied Unity Found

FLASH STORM BRINGS WIDE DAMAGE

Wings Home From 2-Day Paris Parley

Big Three Agreement Will Strengthen Hand At Geneva, He Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returned from three-power talks at Paris today saying "we have found a formula for constructive Allied unity' which will strengthen the anti-Communist position at negotiations on Indochina peace.

Dulles flew to Paris Monday night and held emergency consultations with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Premier Mendes-France. One of his decisions was that Undersecretary of State W. Bedell Smith should go to the Geneva conference to participate in the final round of talks with the Reds on Indochina.

Mad Assurance

Diplomats here believe that Dulles would not have agreed to send Smith to Geneva to provide high level U. S. participation in the conference unless he had assurance from Mendes-France ruling out a peace at any price settlement.

In a statement upon his arrival here this morning, Dulles said the Paris talks "have brought about an understanding concerning Indochina much more complete than has heretofore existed."

This, he added, enabled the Western ministers "to demonstrate anew the solidarity of the Western powers in the face of Communist hostility and intrigue."

Dulles went immediately from the airport to the White House to report to President Eisenhower.

Undersecretary Smith will take off for Geneva late tomorrow for the talks.

No Principles Sacrificed

Dulles said the formula for Allied unity was achieved without any abandonment by the United States of its principles. Eisenhower and Dulles have repeatedly stated that the United States would not sanction Red conquest of any area.

"The United States has been concerned,' Dulles said, "to find a way whereby it could help France, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia find acceptable settlements without in any way prejudicing basic principles to which the United States must adhere if it is to be true to itself and if the captive and endangered peoples of the world are to feel that the United States really believes in liberty.

French, British Agree

"I had the opportunity in Paris fully to explain the United States position in this respect to M. Mendes-France whom I had known before but whom I had not met since he assumed his new offices.

"The conclusion was that we would ask the undersecretary of state, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to return to Geneva at an early date to renew his participation in the Indochina phase of the Geneva conference. This is on the understanding, to which both the French

TYPICAL SCENES TODAY THROUGHOUT Marion and area towns are these showing damage from last night's storm. City street crews were busy today mopping up after the windstorm which felled many trees and ripped large branches from others. LEFT: While neighbors watch the "operation mop up," the city street crew finishes tearing down a giant tree which was blown over against another tree in front of 499 Delaware Ave. at Mrs. Elizabeth Hebard's house. RIGHT: A large branch which snapped off electric wires at the Elmer Harruff house, 352 Mount Vernon Ave., and pulled wires from the William H. Pohler Jr. home blocks pedestrian traffic until street crews can get to it.

Phone, Power Lines Felled by Gale, Lightning

A sudden and violent thunderstorm last night broke the season's most-torrid heat wave sending temperatures plummeting from a high of 98 degrees and causing widespread damage.

A number of telephone and power lines were knocked down by falling trees or burned out by lightning bolts. Gusts of wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour at the Marion Municipal Airport.

The wind lifted the roof off a building at Kenton, knocked down many tree limbs and some whole trees and twisted television antennas in many areas.

Other major damage was caused by lightning. One barn in Marion County burned when struck by a bolt.

The most severe damage in this area seemed to run in a belt from Kenton through Richwood, LaRue, Prospect, Waldo and Delaware.

Highways in the storm belt were blocked in some sections by falling trees and power or telephone wires.

The storm was the third severe weather outburst in two months. In contrast to the two previous thunderstorms, which occurred June 16 and 26, not much rain fell last night. The Marion Weather Station recorded .11 of an inch. In the first June storm rainfall here was 2.36 inches and in the second it was .18 at the local weather station, but much heavier south of the city.

The temperature during the day yesterday reached a scorching 98 degrees, the hottest day this year. After the storm, the mercury dropped to a cool 57 degrees during the night. A year ago, the high was 92 and the low 59.

The temperature dropped 31 degrees during the storm.

Telephone circuits from Marion to Waldo, LaRue, Galion, Delaware, Caledonia, Lima, Richwood, and Nevada were still out this morning, Jack Boyd, division manager of the General Telephone Company, reported. Only part of the circuits to the Morral area were working.

Telephone service to these areas was knocked out because of falling trees breaking telephone lines.

The telephone company reported the most damage resulted from a large tree toppling over and breaking utility wires on Route 23 about six miles south of Marion.

Highway department and telephone company workers arrived on the scene shortly after it was reported at 8:15 p.m. and cleared the road of limbs and the wires. Traffic was partially blocked before the road was cleared.

The company last night received calls from 30 individual telephone users reporting inoperative equip-

Held 12 Days

Seven U.S. Soldiers Released by Czechs

WAIDHAUS, Germany (AP)—Seven American soldiers, held in Communist Czechoslovakia since American Independence Day, crossed the border to freedom today at noon after 12 days in captivity.

The six enlisted men and a captain were turned over at this West German-Czech border point where Associated Press correspondent William Oatis was freed more than a year ago.

They were met by a detachment from the U.S. 2nd Armored Cavalry, which is stationed along the East-West frontier.

An Army spokesman said earlier that "after a routine interrogation, a news conference will be held," probably Saturday.

U.S. Army authorities said the men appeared to be in "good condition" and that they reported "the food was good."

They were brought to the border in a dusty Czech bus, and as they climbed out some of them appeared red-eyed and nervous, but in good health.

Capt. Davis, clutching a road map in his hands, spoke briefly for the group after they stopped momentarily on the German side of the border.

"My men are very tired and very nervous," he said. "The treatment was satisfactory. The food was sufficient and the billets were adequate."

Davis himself appeared nervous. His hands trembled as he spoke.

Two of the men were carrying cameras they apparently had taken with them on their July 4th sightseeing trip to the border.

The men were met by Lt. Col. Archie Birkner of the 2nd Armored Cavalry, who led a detachment of about 20 men. Behind him, where the dirt highway reaches back to the German town of Weiden, 12

Ft. Dix Officer, Sergeant Face Court Martial

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—Court-martial proceedings have been ordered against an Army lieutenant and a sergeant charged with having their company stand at attention for an hour in 90-degree heat.

An investigation into the June 21 incident led to the court-martial order yesterday by Col. Earl R. Ringler, commanding officer of the 272nd Infantry Regiment.

Ringler ordered a July 22 trial for Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes Barre, Pa., and Sgt. 1.C. Richard J. Witbeck of Wellington, Ohio, on charges of taking mass disciplinary action against Company L.

Both men—Morgan was company commander and Witbeck his administrative first sergeant—have been relieved of their duties.

Several soldiers reportedly fainted during the disciplinary action, which was imposed for a reason not explained by the Army.

More Outposts In Hanoi Sector

Vietnamese Defenders Fall Back; Monsoon Rains Hit Delta Area

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Two French defense outposts fell before Vietminh attackers as monsoon rains came to the Red River Delta yesterday and last night.

Vietnamese defenders abandoned the post of Chiquan, 25 miles west of Hanoi, after a brief fight against 400 to 500 Vietminh attackers, a French briefing officer reported. Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, a second small post on the edge of Delta defenses crumpled under another Vietminh attack.

The officer said Vietnamese defenders of both posts were beating their way back to Son Tay through guerrilla-infested territory inside the French defense line, northwest of Hanoi.

Thirty miles northeast of Hanoi the less than 100-man garrison at Camp Hulan stood off 500 Vietminh with the aid of low-flying planes that strafed, bombed and napalmed the attackers. A half dozen other small posts beat back Vietminh attackers yesterday and last night, the officer added.

French mobile battalions bivouacking in three small villages 16 to 20 miles southwest of Hanoi had

Firings Asked

McCarthy To Face Fight in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called his Senate Investigations subcommittee to a meeting today which could boil up a fight over demands for staff firings.

He is seeking permission at the closed session to launch at once a new public investigation of what he calls infiltration of defense plants by 133 subversives. But a majority of the subcommittee's seven members have declared that a "house cleaning' of the staff should take precedence.

First Since Hearing

This is the group's first meeting under McCarthy's chairmanship since its 36-day hearings into his row with top Army officials, on which the subcommittee has not yet handed down a verdict.

At the windup of the hearings four weeks ago today one subcommittee member—Sen. Potter (R-Mich)—announced he believed each side had proved main charges, and that employes on each side should be dismissed. In advance of today's meeting, he told newsmen he still thought so, and added that some staff changes should have priority over any other subcommittee business. He has not mentioned any names.

Two of the subcommittee's three Democratic members, armed with proxy votes to cast for the absent Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), declined to say what moves they planned. But Senators Jackson (D-Wash) and Symington (D-Mo) said they have not receded from their demands for "a house cleaning" among McCarthy appointees on the staff.

Reserves Comment

McCarthy reserved comment on the meeting, and on new developments in efforts by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to have McCarthy fired from chairmanships of the subcommittee and its parent Government Operations Committee.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, announced yesterday he will oppose Flanders' move. But Flanders told a news conference he thinks he has "an excellent chance' to get Senate approval.

In a Senate speech Flanders said such a step would "put an end to the destructive forces" he contends McCarthy wields, particularly in the subcommittee.

Mount Gilead Murder Trial Nearing Close

MOUNT GILEAD — Closing arguments and the charge to the jury were expected today in the third day of the second-degree murder trial of Dave Keen, 73, of Johnsville, in Morrow County Common Pleas Court.

Keen is accused of the fatal shooting of his stepson, Stuart E. Price, 30, of Port Clinton, on May 31 in front of the Keen house in Johnsville.

Court recessed yesterday at 3:12 p.m. and was slated to resume at 9:30 this morning. The trial was apparently cut short Wednesday because of the intense heat in the courtroom. Temperature readings ranged in the low 90's.

County Prosecutor Gale B. Weller called six witnesses to the stand Wednesday. They were: Katie Case, owner of the house in which the Keens had an apartment; William Reed, owner of a nearby store; 11-year-old Judith Hershner who was walking along the street near the scene of the shooting; Morrow coroner, Dr. Frank Sweeney; Max Craven, Mount Gilead undertaker; and

Five Killed as Storm Tears Through State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Angry winds upset great portions of Ohio last night in severe electrical storms that caused at least five deaths. The storm raced from Northwest to Southeast, climaxing a day of intense heat. Another death was attributed to heat and scores of Ohioans were injured.

Fires were set by lightning, trees uprooted and power and telephone service disrupted. Winds of hurricane strength lashed Franklin County (Columbus) and reached a brief peak of 76 miles per hour.

Barn Falls on Boy

At Wapakoneta, 9-year-old Carl Pester was killed when winds collapsed a barn he sought shelter in during the storm. At Newark, Charles Garrard, 69, died of a fractured skull which police said apparently was caused by flying debris. He was found ina downtown street during the storm.

One man was electrocuted when he came in contact with a fallen live wire. He was Mark Richardson of Marietta. Another man, not identified, was reported burned in attempts to save Richardson.

At Convoy, eight miles northwest of Van Wert, Owen McCleland, 57, a farmer, was killed by a passenger train as he tried to make his way through the storm to help extinguish a barn fire set by lightning.

Hospital Hit

Bernard A. Hite, 27, of Columbus was killed shortly before midnight when his vision was obscured by the storm and he ran his car off a county road and hit a big tree stump.

Near Adena in Jefferson County, James Anthony, 12, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Benedict of Adena, was critically injured when a tree was knocked down by lightning and fell on his father's car.

Earlier, authorities blamed high temperatures for the death of a Columbus man. They said Alvin

Geneva Showdown Opens

New U.S. Support Raises Hopes of British, French

GENEVA (AP) — France and Britain, elated by new support from the United States, today opened the showdown phase of negotiations with the Communists aimed at ending the Indochina war.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reportedly feel the Eisenhower administration's decision to resume a major role in the Geneva talks has boosted chances of getting an Indochina cease-fire before July 20. Mendes-France has promised to resign if he fails to get a peace agreement by that date.

The French and British leaders flew back here yesterday after a quick meeting in Paris with Secretary of State Dulles which produced the U.S. decision to send Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith back to Geneva Friday.

Eden conferred with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last night and got him to agree to continue private huddles between delegation heads until Smith gets here.

France and Britain appeared agreed on trying to negotiate a truce by dividing Viet Nam, largest of the three Indochina states and main war arena between the Communist led Vietminh and French Union forces.

Dulles has frowned on such a partition plan. He and Smith had stayed away from Geneva to avoid associating the United States with a settlement giving the Communists domination of important northern Indochina areas, possibly

Electrician Admits Story On Sheppard Case Hoax

BALTIMORE (AP) — Investigation of the Cleveland slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard was sidetracked here today by a 36-year-old electrician who said he had information about the case, then admitted his story was a hoax.

Thomas J. Parrino, assistant prosecutor of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, flew here last night to question George W. Ennis even though the man admitted making up his yarn.

After questioning Ennis two and a half hours last night and early today, Parrino asked Baltimore authorities to hold the man "in connection with the Sheppard murder case."

Parrino and Baltimore detectives, after resuming the questioning today, said Ennis had slips in his possession indicating he had rented lockers at a Cleveland bus terminal. The information was passed to Cleveland for further checking.

Ennis, an admitted embezzler in Ohio, who gave his address as Phoenix, Md., entered the case yesterday when he made a long distance telephone call to the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ennis told a bizarre story concerning the slaying of the 31-year-old wife of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath. While a Cleveland reporter stalled Ennis on the telephone, other Plain Dealer staffers contacted authorities who had Baltimore police pick up the telephone caller.

Under questioning by Baltimore detectives before Parrino arrived, Ennis repudiated the story he told the Cleveland paper. He said he

Storms Crack Record Heat After Death Toll Nears 100

By The Associated Press

Violent storms in the East and an expanding cool front in the midwest partially cracked the seasons' worst heat wave today as the death toll from more than a week of scorching temperatures neared the 100 mark.

The heat-relieving storms left a multimillion-dollar trail of wind and lightning damage across New England, eastern New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and southern Michigan.

Winds of near-hurricane strength uprooted trees, peeled off roofs, snapped power and telephone lines and blocked highways.

The mercury hit a sizzling 120 degrees at Fort Scott, Kan., before the cooler air began moving into that state. Temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were common from Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas eastward to the Atlantic.

Thousands of baby chicks died from the heat in Arkansas. The Arkansas Poultry Federation said the state's poultry industry may suffer its worst baby-chick shortage in history.

Volunteers responded to an appeal to help save the lives of feeble-minded patients at the state training school in Winfield, Kan. Some Mongolian-type patients are supersensitive to the heat because of deficiency in a gland that acts as a sort of thermostat in the body. They had to be packed in ice or otherwise externally cooled.

Eleven patients have died in Kansas mental institutions this week.

Even tropical plants at the Mis-

Looks for Money

Porterfield Starts Move To Expand Parole Setup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is looking for money that will let him expand the state parole system.

The chief of the Division of Corrections, M. C. Koblentz, today told the director he would like to add more parole officers to reduce the work load of 48 officers in the field and three at institutions. He outlined a program that would cost about $35,000 a year.

Carry Heavy Load

Some parole officers now look after more than 100 cases.

Dr. Porterfield said he may have to go to the state controlling board in his search for funds. "I'm looking over our budget now to try to find the money some place," he said.

"We don't have the additional amount needed in this year's appropriation, but there may be some 'pockets' of money that could be used."

The "pockets", he explained, could be either unused funds for other items or money that has been set aside for other activities which the department doesn't think it will spend entirely.

"I'm in the process of finding out where those 'pockets' are," said Dr. Porterfield, who recently took over the direction of the department.

In most cases, he said, the controlling board would have to act on a request to transfer funds.

Would Provide 9 Officers

Glenn R. Kloppenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole, said the amount Koblentz asked would be enough to hire about nine more parole officers but would leave little for their expenses. The starting salary for such a job is $300 a month.

Koblentz feels parole officers could be doing better jobs of rehabilitating former prisoners if each had fewer cases.

Some parole officers cover a number of counties, while thickly-populated Cuyahoga County needs the services of 10 officers.

Both Dr. Porterfield and Kloppenstein emphasized that if more parole officers are hired, they want men qualified to deal with problems of paroled prisoners.

"We need men who will be sympathetic toward the parolees," Dr. Porterfield said, "not just officers who will be looking for a chance to slap parolees back in prison."

"If we can pick our own people instead of having to hire men sent to us, we can get some pretty good men," said Kloppenstein. "Our qualifications are high. When I told a friend what we demanded for a starting salary of $300 a month, he said 'If you find any, send them over to me and I'll hire them at $10,000 a year.' "

including the city of Hanoi.

No Sign of Change

There was no confirmation that Dulles, as a result of his Paris talks with Mendes-France and Eden, liked the idea of an Indochina partition any better.

But it was believed the three Western Allies now are much nearer some kind of understanding which will allow them to display a more united front when full negotiations resume with Molotov and Red China's Chou [illegible]-lai.

Informants said under one formula being studied by the Western Allies, the United States would stand aside without giving moral approval to the partition scheme.

But it would join Britain and France in providing some kind of guarantees to support and protect the southern part of Viet Nam, which would remain under French-sponsored chief of state Bao Dai. They would provide simil: guarantees for the other two Pro-French Indochinese states, Cambodia and Laos.

Smith is expected to arrive here from Washington Saturday and a formal session of the nine-party conference presumably will be called soon after. Dulles refused to return here himself, flying back to Washington.

1,000 Return In Columbus at Westinghouse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Discussion of what Westinghouse officials term a deliberate production slowdown will be discussed today as 1,000 workers were allowed to return to work.

They were laid off three days this week as a disciplinary measure, company officials said. They announced that if work level doesn't return to normal today, the employes will face another two-day layoff.

Union and company officials agreed to meet to discuss the problem. Officials of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said any apparent drop in production was due to quotas "humanly impossible' to meet.

Employes first were sent home Monday, then ordered off production lines Tuesday for two more days.

Company officials said the "slowdown' may stem from a company objection to a Mansfield worker serving on a negotiations committee. The worker was not named.

had been drinking and made up the yarn to impress a girl friend.

Mrs. Sheppard was bludgeoned to death at her suburban Cleveland home July 4.

Cleveland police said Ennis pleaded guilty here last November to a charge of embezzling $370 from Spacarb, beverage machine operators, and was put on probation until Nov. 5, 1955, on condition he refrained from drink and restored the money.

His probation record showed Ennis, a native of Salisbury, Md., lived most of his life in Wilmington, Del. He enlisted in the Army in 1935, was AWOL a year and was courtmartialed and dishonorably discharged in 1938.

He moved to Cleveland in June, 1953, after working as an electrician in the Baltimore area.

Was in Cleveland

Cleveland police said they had confirmed Ennis was in Cleveland at the time of the murder. He had worked there as an electrician and at one time lived in a suburb adjoining Bay Village, the fashionable lakefront community where the Sheppards lived.

In Cleveland, preliminary tests on a tattered undershirt washed up against a pier near the Sheppard home were termed inconclusive.

The T-shirt is similar to the missing one believed worn by Dr. Sheppard the night of his wife's slaying. Investigaors regard the physician's shirt as a key piece of evidence in the case.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said he has been unable to determine yet if stains on the shirt found were from blood.

French bombers hit three guerilla bases north of and half way along the vital Hanoi-Haiphong supply route, dumped 50 to 70 tons of high explosives on Vietminh concentration areas along the northern Delta border, and another 2 tons on guerrilla-infested villages just north of Hung Yen, 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Small patrol fights sputtered in rice paddies turned to swamps and roads made ribbons of mud by torential rains that drenched Hanoi and the Delta area.

Voyage to Hawaii Fails

Raft Founders in Pacific, 5 Amateur Sailors Saved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five wet and weary amateur sailors who had hoped to drift to Hawaii were plucked from their floundering, powerless raft 60 miles off central California early today.

The freighter Metapan radioed at 4:25 a.m. that all of the men had been rescued despite high seas and strong winds.

Presumably all were in good condition. Details of the rescue were not available.

The Metapan, which located the tiny yellow raft Lehi, 62 miles due west of Point Sal, said it was heading for San Francisco, about 175 miles away. It was expected to dock late today.

Raft To Be Destroyed

The 32-foot six-sided raft was cast adrift by the Metapan, but the coast guard said the cutter Alert would find it and destroy it as a menace to navigation.

Search for the fragile raft, which put out from San Francisco last Friday, ended off Morro Bay, 8½ hours after the Coast Guard answered an urgent SOS that the craft was sinking.

The Metapan, which sailed from Golfito, Costa Rica, July 9 with a cargo of bananas, was in the general area when it picked up the SOS. It was bound for San Francisco and Puget Sound.

The United Fruit Co. freighter picked up a radio signal from the Lehi at 12:25 a.m. and took the raft alongside less than three hours later in what the Coast Guard praised as a marvel of seamanship.

The Lehi's SOS, first sent about 8 p.m. and repeated at 8:15 p.m., said:

"Taking water. Bow opened during heavy sea. Need tow. Sinkable condition. Raft Lehi."

Ends 4-Day Search

The call followed four days of private searching and two days of radio appeal by the raft's ailing radio operator, Don Smith of Santa Rosa, to be taken from the Lehi.

The Lehi is manned by five amateurs who set out from San Francisco Friday hoping to drift 2,200 miles southwest of Hawaii. Skippered by Devere Baker, a Mormon preacher, they took no food or water. They hoped to catch fish and are using a solar still to make sea water drinkable. They've reported snaring one salmon and one shark for food.

The raft drifted south instead of southwest.

After receiving the SOS the Coast Guard ordered into action the 125-foot cutter Alert from Morro Bay, diverted the cutter Active from San Francisco and dispatched two rescue planes.

The Active started searching an area 17 miles southwest of Point Sur, the last reported position of the Lehi at 6 p.m. Monday.

The Alert searched 20 to 55 miles due west of Point Sal, which is 15 miles south of San Luis Obispo. This is the estimated position of the Lehi, the Coast Guard said.

Aboard the Lehi with Baker and Smith were Joe Fearon, Judge L. Hawks and J. Keith Pope, a News paperman. All were from the San Francisco areaexcept Hawks who is from Ogden, Utah.

In his order yesterday, Ringler said Morgan would be charged with dereliction of duty under Article 92 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice "in that he negligently failed to take appropriate corrective action to prevent the unauthorized treatment of personnel in his command."

As for Witbeck, he will be tried under Article 93 for alleged maltreatment of company personnel "by keeping them in formation and attention for an excessive period of time."

Ringler's name cropped up in the recent Army-McCarthy hearings in Washington in connection with Pvt. G. David Schine, who had been an aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis). He was Schine's commanding officer when the former consultant to McCarthy's subcommittee took his basic training here.

and British ministers expressly agreed, that renewed participation by the United States principles which I described.

"I believe that we have found the formula for constructive Allied unity which will have a beneficial effect upon the Geneva conference. And it carries no danger that the United States will abandon its principles."

Eden and Mendes-France reportedly put heavy pressure on Dulles to go to Geneva himself, or at least send Smith.

The essence of their argument was that the three Western Powers should not appear to be divided at so critical a moment.

Dulles' reply, made known in advance, was that high-level U.S. representation at the Indochina negotiations had to be avoided in the face of a danger that France would make an agreement which the United States would feel it had to repudiate.

Would Accenturate Split

He is known to feel that if he was personally present and rejected the settlement it would constitute a spectacular break among the Western Allies.

The fact that he agreed finally to send Smith was regarded as evidence that this danger had been greatly minimized. Thus it appeared that while the settlement which may be made will not necessarily be desirable to the United States, it will at least be one that this country can "live with.' And by holding himself personally aloof, Dulles obtained some freedom of action to criticize the agreement later.

The Americans had driven to the Czech border in a weapons carrier truck July 4. As they neared the poorly defined frontier, they stopped a German and asked him where they could find the demarcation line.

Found Car Abandoned

The German later told police he had warned them to be careful, but that they drove on. Later border patrols found the abandoned Army vehicle near the border on the German side.

In a protest note delivered several days later, the Czech authorities said the Americans had penetrated deeply into Czechoslovak territory. They claimed the soldiers carried cameras and took forbidden pictures.

The U. S. State Department, in a sharp note, replied that the men were "abducted' and demanded their immediate release.

Ingenuity Aids 2 Polio Victims In House Work

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Today's homemaker can learn a great deal about housekeeping from two women who became household efficiency experts because of crippling infantile paralysis.

Guests at the recent American Medical Association convention saw in action two women whose homes are arranged to abolish teetering on chairs to reach high shelves and getting down on all fours, to drag out the Sunday roast.

The "dreamhouse" arrangement was no accident. Both women are almost completely paralyzed below the hips, yet both are able to perform nearly all the tasks of the average housewife.

Mrs. Grover Wilson, 33, of San Rafael, Calif., carries on all normal homemaking activities for her husband and nine-year-old son despite paralysis of both legs.

Stricken with poliomyelitis two years ago, Mrs. Wilson uses a wheelchair only for resting. She moves around her home by grasping furniture or railings and shifting her weight from one leg to the other. When marketing she uses a crutch and her own special car.

In the kitchen Mrs. Wilson pivots around a large round table to get to the icebox, sink, stove and within-reach cabinets.

Ironing is done sitting down. At her side are hangers for the finished pressing.

Miss Marian Anderson's Berkeley, Calif., apartment offers an equally convenient working arrangement. This cheerful 57-year-old woman has been in a wheelchair almost 25 years.

Miss Anderson lives alone. She uses a plain board five feet long and 30 inches wide to slide into bed or get in or out of a car without assistance. A simple homemade elevator operated by weights and pulleys by-passes steps to the apartment.

Like Mrs. Wilson, Miss Anderson has arranged her home so that all clothing in closets, articles in cupboards and other equipment are within easy reach. A pair of pincers with a long handle enables her to pick up things off the floor. A small broom and long-handled dustpan complete the light housekeeping equipment.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS for you girls who are a bit plump. Soprano Eleanor Steber says she weighs 160 pounds and has no intention of reducing because people don't estimate you weight, "They look at your shape."

In the Service

Three Marion men are attending summer camp at Ft. Knox, Ky., as members of the 2118th Army Reserve Area Service Unit. They are Maj. Joseph H. Bingham of 862 Irey Ave., Capt. Donald E. Garver of 256 N. State St., and Capt. Hubert H. Goerlich of 218 Olney Ave. A Ready Reserve Unit, the 2118th has headquarters in Cleveland and detachments in Akron and Mansfield.

CRASH VICTIM DIES

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The second fatality of a crash between a fire chief's car and a ladder truck was recorded here last night with the death of Miss Dorothy Frahn, 59, of Dayton. District Fire Chief Bernard J. Schaeff died in the crash Monday; 23 persons, including bystanders, were injured.

School Adopts Policy For Married Students

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Hot Springs School Board has adopted a policy that high school students planning to marry and continue in school must notify the principal in writing at least two weeks before the wedding.

The new policy also provides for a two-week "adjustment period" after the wedding, during which the couple is excused from classes.

WARDENS SWITCHED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Capt. L. M. Redman, assistant deputy warden at Ohio Penitentiary, yesterday was named officer in charge of the prison's Roseville branch. Warden Ralph W. Alvis said Roseville's present chief officer, Capt. J. S. Thompson, will be reassigned to the main prison. Alvis said the switch, which followed by about a month the escape of three Roseville prisoners, was routine.

Yankees Face Baltimore as Tribe, Athletics Tangle

Reynolds Still Big Question In Stengel's Pennant Plans

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

The hapless, hitless and practically helpless Baltimore Orioles invade Yankee Stadium and the Philadelphia A's, equally futile, entertain the Cleveland Indians in what you might call the openers of the "new" American League pennant race.

Prof. Casey Stengel's Yankees, who spent the first half of the season flopping and floundering, have a nine-game winning streak going and are now just half a game behind the Indians, whose latest work included dropping four games to the Chicago White Sox.

The consensus around the league is that the Yanks have the upper hand now with one big "if." He is Allie Reynolds, who missed the All-Star Game because of a muscle pull in his left hip.

The ailment is a chronic one, but if it bothers him too much he may be forced back to the bullpen. Stengel has no abundance of pitchers so that could spell the difference between first and second place.

"My back, left leg and left hip pain when I try to pitch,' said Allie. "I've had it since June 20 when I felt it in Chicago. It's bothered me ever since. That's the reason I've had trouble holding those big leads. I try to throw a fast ball, but the pain goes through the leg and the ball doesn't go very fast. Lately, it's been coming back much faster."

Trainer Gus Mauch of the Bombers also is somewhat puzzled.

"I don't think there's any cure but rest," he opined. "That's nature's way. If he doesn't try to pitch or run for a week, it may get better."

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, says he is not particularly worried over the events of the past week. He has one point — namely, the Indians are not the kind of club that will be held to five runs in four games as they were against the White Sox last weekend.

"Al Rosen and Bob Avila have been in batting slumps since their injuries," he said. "They're just in slumps that every player has to fight his way out of sometimes. They'll snap out of it and we'll be more dangerous than ever."

The White Sox, for their part, are three games off the pace and the way their pitching has come around, could make things uncomfortable for all concerned. Manager Paul Richards will send Bob Keegan against the Washington Senators tonight.

In the National League, the New York Giants start a Western trip with a five-game bulge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who whipped the Milwaukee Braves 2-1 in 12 innings last night in the only major league game played.

The Brooklyn victory came the hard way before a crowd of 35,470, which boosted the Milwaukee attendance over the million mark. Duke Snider batted in the runs in the first and final innings on sacrifice flies. Jim Hughes, who took over for Russ Meyer in the ninth, was the winner.

The Dodger runs came in virtually identical situations. Both Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese singled in the first and Snider sent the former home with a towering fly to left field. In the 12th again Gilliam singled and was followed by another hit from Reese's bat. Again Snider blasted a high fly to left, sending Gilliam home.

Bobby Thomson made his first National League appearance for the Braves in the 12th with two out and drew a walk. Lew Burdette took the loss.

Tebbetts Aims At Third Spot Against Phillies

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have been flirting with the National League's first division for several weeks, backed into a fourth place tie last night.

While the Reds had an off day, the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 2-1 decision from the Milwaukee Braves which dropped the Braves back into the tie with Cincinnati.

The Reds will have a chance tonight, however, to help themselves.

They have a twi-night doubleheader against the Philadelphia Phils and they're only two games back of the third place Philadelphians.

Manager Birdie Tebbets planned to use Art Fowler and either Harry Perkowski or Bud Podbielan in the twin bill which will be the first of seven games in four days for the Rhinelanders. Curt Simmons and Bob Miller were expected to be the Philadelphia pitchers.

BEULAH PARK IGNORED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Racing Commission yesterday approved a 17-day running race meet at Fort Miami Oct. 9-Oct. 28 but denied Beulah Park at Columbus a 25-day session. The commission held to an earlier ruling giving Beulah 23 days, Sept. 13-Oct. 9.

Heat Wave May Bring Bad Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As any sophomore fisherman knows, the 90-100 plus degree temperatures of the last few days mean something less than good fishing.

In the first place, it's too hot for the fishermen. Its also too hot for the fish to have any appetite.

The result, says the state wildlife division, has been "spotty" fishing. And the division, which usually leans to the optimistic side on its forecasts, refused even to make a general fishing conditions forecast for the state. It did say most streams are clear to cloudy and lakes generally good to fair.

Conditions by districts:

NORTHWESTERN —Streams varied from roily to clear and no outstanding catches reported. Lake St. Marys is clear but low and fishing is rather poor with no change expected for the coming weekend. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is clear, with some bass being caught. East Harbor is normal, with a few bass, bluegills and catfish being caught.

NORTHWESTERN — Both lakes and streams in fair condition with the best fishing being provided by Lake Erie and such other lakes as Aquilla in Geauga County, Clear Fork in Richland County, Mogadore in Portage County and Chippewa in Medina County.

EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHEASTERN — Most waters in fair fishing condition with Burr Oak Lake in Athens County and Piedmont Lake in Belmont County providing the best success. Such streams as the Walhonding, Wills Creek and the Muskingum are mostly clear and normal, but few fish being taken. Outlook for weekend rather poor.

CENTRAL, SOUTHERN — Both lakes and streams in fair fishing condition with the Olentangy, Scioto, Blacklick Creek and Alum Creek providing best fishing. Deer Creek in Madison County is clear and normal. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County is clear as is Buckeye Lake.

SOUTHWESTERN — Fishing rather poor in past week although some bass taken from some of the streams in Shelby, Logan and the Champaign counties, and some trout still being taken from Mad River and its tributaries in Champaign County. Indian Lake in Logan County is clear, but low, with bass, bluegills and catfish being caught. Kiser Lake continues to produce some nice catches as does Stonelick Lake in Clermont County and Cowan Lake in Clinton County. Fishing pressure extremely light and fishing conditions not too satisfactory for coming weekend.

Hilliards Race Program Abbreviated by Rainfall

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rain washed out the sulky business at Hilliards Raceway last night after the fourth event.

But the harness racing fans had a nice surprise before the cloudburst. Atom Chief, a 30-1 shot, won the fourth race and paid $64.20.

DRAWING SCHEDULED

TRACK DARKENED

CLEVELAND (AP) — An electrical storm blew out a transformer last night at Grandview Oval, plunging the entire area into darkness at the end of four races. Lights went on after a few moments, but rain checks were passed out and the remainder of the program was cancelled.

Eyes Money Record

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Pronto Don, 7-year-old gelding from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., has a chance tonight to become the richest of all trotters and pacers but is rated no better than an 8-1 shot to win the $35,000 Roosevelt Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

Katie Key, fleet 6-year-old mare owned by Pat Tuccio of Riverhead, N. Y., is the 4-5 choice for the mile and a half test.

Columbus Falls 7-6 in Slugfest Against Toledo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With one notable exception, pitchers were "it" in American Association baseball last night.

Big Al Worthington set down league-leading Indianapolis on four hits as the Minneapolis Millers scored a 5-1 victory.

Two of the Indians' safeties were infield scratches, and so effective was Worthington that his outfielders didn't make a single putout.

St. Paul's Saints cut the gap between them and Indianapolis to eight and a half games by edging Kansas City 3-2 behind John Rutherford's six-hitter.

Relief pitcher Tom Herrin won his own game by tripling home the tying run and scoring the winning marker in Louisville's 3-2 conquest of Charleston.

Billy Queen and Dick Sinovic slapped back-to-back doubles in the last of the ninth to give the Toledo Sox a 7-6 edge over Columbus in a 23-hit slugfest.

It was to no avail, but even here a pitcher had a big moment as Columbus starter Bill Greason socked a three-run homer in the second inning.

Dente Replaces Strickland for Opener in East

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In an attempt to end their longest losing string of the season, four straight to the Chicago White Sox, the Cleveland Indians will juggle their lineup once again for tonight's game with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Shortstop George Strickland will sit out the opener of the 12-game eastern swing, and Sam Dente will take his place, Manager Al Lopez said, explaining:

"I want Strickland to get a good rest before starting the second half. He's had three days off now, so two or three more ought to do the trick."

During 13 games played in July, Strickland got only eight hits in 40 times at bat for an even .200 batting average. In those games he drove home only three runs.

Early Wynn will make his second attempt to win No. 11 for the Tribe, and southpaw Alex Kellner (5-8) will hurl for the A's.

Belts Jackson

Valdes Tagged for Title Bid After Charles Return Fight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes rides the glory road toward a 1955 shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano today as Hurricane Tommy Jackson blows harmlessly out to sea.

The lobby of Madison Square Garden told the story of last night's two-round TKO victory for the Cuban giant on the automatic three-knockdown rule. Valdes ambled through a swarm of happy admirers, pausing to sign autographs and greet handshakers with a wide grin.

Outside, in the pouring rain, Jackson walked with head down, mumbling to himself. His family trailed behind, trying to convince him to go back to the hotel.

"I won't fight nobody else until I fight him,' Jackson had said in his dressing room. He made a stormy scene in the ring, tearing the referee's scorecard in two, before police ushered him to his dressing room.

"He had nothing," said Valdes, through an interpreter. "He clown fighter. Everybody expect us to go to body, we go to head in second round.' About Marciano? "I knock him out in four rounds."

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "Valdes rates the next shot at Marciano after the rematch with Ezzard Charles that we hope to run in September."

Valdes, an 11-5 underdog, overwhelmed the listless Hurricane, who showed only one brief flash of the fiery newcomer who stopped Rex Layne, beat Clarence Henry and knocked out Dan Bucceroni in his exciting rise from prelim boy to No. 5 contender.

In the first round, the Cuban thumped at Jackson's body with both hands. Shifting to the head when the jigging Jackson came out for the second, Valdes drove his man half through the ropes with a solid right. Although the timekeeper counted four, Referee Al Berl ruled no knockdown.

Another right sent Jackson to the floor for an automatic-eight-count. Actually he was up at two. Another flurry and a bull rush drove Jackson to his knees. He was up at one but the count again went to the automatic eight.

The third knockdown that ended the bout, under New York rules that require a referee to halt a fight when one man has been down three times in one round, was disputed by many in the crowd of 4,465. It looked as though a push, following a blow to the neck, sent Jackson down. No matter what it was, Berl ruled "knockdown' and the fight as over at 2:35 of the second.

Valdes weighed 204, Jackson, 190½.

11 Moundsmen Hold Chance at 20-Game Circle

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty, the elusive victory peak all pitchers hope to climb but only a few do, is well within reach of 11 major league moundsmen this season.

With the 1954 campaign entering its second phase, seven American League pitchers and four in the National are at least halfway "home."

Headed by Johnny Antonelli of the Giants (13-2) and Harvey Haddix of the Cards (13-4), the list includes Bob Keegan (12-3), Virgil Trucks (12-5) and Sandy Consuegra (10-3) of the White Sox, Mike Garcia (11-5) and Early Wynn (10-7) of the Indians, Robin Roberts of the Phillies (11-8), Bob Grim of the Yankees (10-3) and Steve Gromek of Detroit and Brooklyn's Carl Erskine (10-8).

Not since 1951 when 13 major league hurlers made the grade have the prospects for 20-game winners been so encouraging. However, the all-time record of 17 set in 1903 and tied in 1920 appears safe.

For some of the pitchers within striking distance this season, winning 20 games is nothing new.

Roberts, for example, has done it the last four years in a row. Starting with 1950, the Phillies durable right-hander has won 20, 21, 28 and 23 in that order—a total, including 1954, of 103 triumphs. He has lost 57 during that span.

Erskine, Haddix and Trucks all finished with 20 victories last year.

Garcia had a 20-game year in 1952 with a 22-11 record and the year before that with 20 wins against 13 setbacks. Wynn also wound up with 20 in the bag in 1951 and '52.

133 Linksmen Eye Share Of $25,000 at Manakiki

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Manakiki Open, with a "bit-of-everything" flavor, opened today with 133 professionals seeking to split a $25,000 purse and 17 amateurs tagging along for a bit of glory.

The 72-hole medal play test, on an 18-per-day basis running through Sunday, is slated over Manakiki Golf Club's 6,651-yard, par-72 layout. The tree-infested, hilly course offers a stern test.

Missing is last year's victor and the season's top money winner, Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis. He arrived here Tuesday, hung around for a couple of hours and then headed for St. Paul. He gave no explanation of why he was passing up the tournament.

Bob Shave, Manakiki professional and co-chairman of the tournament, was incensed.

"I think the PGA should take some action against him," Shave said. "After all, he promised to play here, he was our defending champion and we had advertised he'd be on hand. But he doesn't even give us an excuse when he leaves."

A pro-amateur tuneup, curtailed by rain, found Tommy Bolt, the fiery Houston, Tex., pro turning in the best round of 66 yesterday. Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, was second with a 35-33—68, one stroke ahead of Earl Christiansen of Athens, Ohio; Herman Scharlau of Boca Raton, Fla.;; Bob Inman of Tulsa, Okla.; Bob Toski of Livingston, N. J.; and George Bruno of Las Vegas, Nev. Open champion Ed Furgol had a 75, three over par.

Yesterday's STARS

BATTING—Duke Snider, Brooklyn, Dodgers, knocked in both Brooklyn runs with sacrifice flies as the Dodgers defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1.

PITCHING—Jim Hughes, Brooklyn Dodgers, took over for Russ Meyer in the ninth and held the Milwaukee Braves hitless in his 32nd relief appearance of the year as the Brooks won 2-1 in 12 innings.

Women's Golf Tourney Enters Semi-Final Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — There was only one "stranger" in the field today as the Ohio Women's Amateur golf tournament reached its semi-final stage.

That was Miss Polly Martin, a 25-year-old St. Clairsville girl who teaches physical education at Lake Forest (Ill.) College. Although she has done a lot of tournament playing, Miss Martin never before has been as far as the semi-finals of the state tournament.

The other three semi-finalists—Miss Claire Doran of Cleveland, Miss Carol Diringer of Tiffin and Mrs. Burt Weil of Cincinnati—have accounted for seven state championships.

Miss Doran, who has played the finest golf in the tournament thus far, has won the title in three of the last four years. Miss Diringer was the 1951 winner and has been runner-up to Miss Doran for the last two years. Mrs. Weil won it three times in a row back in 1933-34-35.

Today Mrs. Weil met Miss Doran while Miss Diringer clashed with Miss Martin.

Playing in blazing heat, Miss Doran again was under par yesterday as she eliminated 18-year-old Barbara McIntire of Toledo, 5 and 4.

Miss Diringer also was under par again as she whipped Mrs. Dolly McCarthy of Cincinnati, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Weil was a 4 and 3 winner over Miss Betty Kerby despite the fact the Cincinnati veteran was two over par.

Miss Martin won the first three holes against Mrs. Don Pifer of Toledo and never was behind as she won, 3 and 2.

Frank Thomas, outfielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, once studied for the priesthood.

ALL-AROUND GOOD MAN - By Alan Maver

BILLY GOODMAN OF THE BOSTON RED SOX, WHO'S DOING HIS CUSTOMARY JOB OF BEING A GOOD MAN AT ANY POSITION HE PLAYS.
THIS SEASON BILLY'S BEEN SPLITTING HIS TIME BETWEEN 2ND AND LEFT FIELD AND KEEPING UP THE GOOD WORK AT THE PLATE—TED WILLIAMS AND DALE MITCHELL ARE THE ONLY ONES IN THE LEAGUE WHO TOP HIS .341 LIFE TIME AVG.
THINK I NEED A CHANGE OF SCENE
HE MAY CONCEIVABLY HAVE DONE BETTER IF HE'D BEEN SETTLED AT ONE SPOT—HOWEVER, HE SPENT ALL OF 1949 AT 1ST BASE BUT BATTED ONLY .298, HIS 2ND. LOWEST MARK.

Ray Captures Feature, Hooper Second on Richwood Program

Clarence Ray of Belle Center nosed out Marion's Paul Hooper to take the feature event last night at the Richwood Speedway.

He nosed out the Marion driver by a bumper length. Walt Hamilton of Richwood came in third. The nip and tuck race was restarted when Hooper, Ray, Chuck Evans of Forest and Joe Erwin of Richwood tangled on the first turn.

With the exception of Evans, all were able to restart. On the 13th lap, Emerson Dyer of Forest lost control and overturned.

From the start to the finish Ray and Hooper were fighting for the lead.

Dick Woodall of Bucyrus finished first in first event with Ray second and Hooper coming in third. J. L. Jones of Richwood led the way in the second race with second going to Evans and Ed Moore of Delaware third.

The third race was won by Dyer. Second was Evans and Walt Hamilton came in third. Evans and Dick Mayberry went into spins and that race also was restarted.

In the winners' handicap, it was Hooper pacing the field with Dyer second and Ray third. Chet Howard of Mount Gilead came in first in the consolation with Joe Wallace of Richwood second and Russ Halkins third.

Woodall came out on top in the Australian pursuit with Hooper running second and Evans third. Woodall and Hooper were the only two left on the track at the conclusion of the event.

Isaly Captures 7-3 Win, Rains Stop Nightcap

Isaly trimmed Marion County Bank 7-3 in Little League action last night at Robert Scott Field. The American League nightcap between Goodyear and National City Bank was called by rain with Goodyear batting in the top of the first.

Gene Dulin received credit for his sixth straight win against no setbacks in the Isaly win although he needed help from Floyd Kelly, who hurled the final frame.

Dulin had a shutout going until the sixth when the losers staged an uprising which accounted for their entire run production.

The pair of Isaly hurlers held County Bank to four hits while striking out 10, walking eight and hitting a batsman.

The loser was Jack Moore, now 3-4, who lasted until the second frame when he was relieved by Billy Wolfe. Isaly sealed the win with four runs in the first on three hits and three in the second on four safeties off the Banker hurlers. In all, the County Bank moundsmen were tagged for seven hits. They struck out five and walked four.

Larry Ishida and Randy Leedom paced the Isaly attack with two hits each while Floyd Kelly, Martin Stevenson and John Norris netted the other safeties. For the losers, Gary Craft had a pair of hits and Larry Sims and Billy Wolfe had a hit apiece.

The win was Isaly's 12th in 15 starts. National City Bank ranks second in the American League standings with a 7-8 mark. Next come Goodyear, 6-9, and Marion County Bank, 5-10.

VFW Nine Nips Alloy Entry 9-2 In Pony Loop

VFW defeated Alloy 9-2 in Pony League play last night at Lincoln Park. The tilt was called at the end of six frames because of rain.

Steve Flesher held the losers to three hits while striking out 11 and walking three.

Dale Walters and Larry Jay, who came on in the second, and Jim Harris, who took over in the fourth, were the victims of the VFW attack. They were reached for seven hits and three runs in the first, two in the second and four in the fourth.

The trio of Alloy hurlers were credited with seven strikeouts. They walked eight. Lone runs by the losers came in the fourth and fifth innings.

Flesher and Ronnie Keck both delivered a pair of hits for the winners while Dick Farson unloaded a home run and Frank Grace and Bob Merriman added a hit apiece. Everett Rice and two hits for Alloy and Jim Ambrose netted the other.

Pony League district tournament play is scheduled here Saturday night.

Marion's Pony League All Stars will host Bellefontaine's Pony Leaguers in the tourney action. The tilt at Lincoln Park is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Winner of the Saturday night clash will advance to the district 4 Pony League tournament at Defiance. The tourney starts Tuesday, July 20.

Prospect Nine, Green Camp in Teen Victories

Green Camp and Prospect pounded out wins Tuesday night in the American League division of the Marion County Teen League. Green Camp nipped the Waldo-Pleasant combine 8-5 and Prospect edged Marion's Indians 4-3.

The game at Prospect was ended after five and a half innings because of darkness. The winners scored their first run in the second on a hit, a hit batsman and two walks. Marion went ahead with a pair in the third on a walk, a triple by Lavender and fielder's choice.

Prospect tallied one in the fourth without benefit of a base hit. A walk and three errors did the damage. The run in the fifth came in on a walk, two hit batters and two base knocks. The Indians came back for one in the top of the sixth on a base on balls, two stolen bases and a fielder's choice.

Harold Jones hurled for the Marion nine, giving three hits, walking six and striking out five. He also hit three batters. Bob Rodgers was on the mound for Prospect. He was nicked for three hits and gave three free passes. He whiffed nine.

Green Camp pushed over seven runs in the fifth inning to down the Waldo-Pleasant crew. David Noe and Charles Leffler shared the battery duties for the losers, each taking a turn behind the plate and on the mound. Louis Finch went all the way for Green Camp with Wilson behind the plate.

Finch allowed only three hits and struck out six. He walked nine. The Waldo-Pleasant moundsmen also gave three hits. They registered nine strike outs and walked three.

Hurlers Forgot To Bring Stuff, Campy Insists

MILWAUKEE (AP) — You probably got the same idea from television—that the All-Star Game pitching Tuesday left something to be desired—and a guy who was in a position to know will back you up.

"Naw," said Roy Campanella last night, "none of 'em had much."

Campy was waiting his turn in the batting cage while his Brooklyn Dodger mates were warming up for what turned out to be their 2-1, 12-inning win over Milwaukee. He caught the first seven innings of the All-Star Game for the Nationals as the American Leaguers won 11-9.

"The only one who had anything at all was (Marv) Grisson," Campanella said, "his stuff was pretty good. The rest of 'em were way off."

What about Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, who started for the Nationals and was nicked for four runs?

"He didn't have his best stuff," Campy replied. "He was behind most of 'em—2 and 0, 3 and 0—and thats' not like him. Usually he's throwing it right where he wants. Why man, when I bat against him he's mostly got two strikes on me before I know it. He wasn't like that yesterday, even if he did strike out, what was it, five?"

Who looked the best for the American Leaguers?

"Well, let's see," Campy said, pushing back his cap. "I didn't face (Virgil) Trucks. I guess it was (Whitey) Ford (the New York Yankee southpaw who started)."

Was he as good as in the World Series last year?

"Naw," said Campy, "not that good. But he was the best they showed.

"It was just one of those games, you know, everybody hittin' and not much pitchin' all around."

Two Teachers Hired By Board at Crestline

CRESTLINE — Resignations of Robert Duncan and Ames Matthews were presented to the Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night, and accepted. Supt. A. A. Remy announced the hiring of two new teachers to replace those resigning.

Lester Grace of Altoona, Pa., alumnae of Defiance College, was given a contract as basketball coach, assistant football coach, and teacher in Junior High School. Mr. Grace has taught at Hebron for two years and Mount Gilead three years. He spent four years in U. S. Military service. His last basketball team won the district finals.

James Clouse of Galion was hired to teach Junior High mathematics and also will be in charge of Junior High athletics and varsity baseball. He taught at Richfield three years and was in Military service two years. A graduate of Ohio State University, he is a member of Ohio State championship golf team and is currently serving as pro at Galion Country Club and instructor at the Bucyrus Club.

It was decided to ask for a six-mill levy for the school at the November election.

Janitors, bus drivers, and secretary to the superintendent were all rehired for the ensuing year. Bills in the amount of $7,381 were read and ordered paid.

Fred Hesser, clerk, presented the following financial report, $24,970 in the general fund and $2,241 in cafeteria fund, making a total in the bank of $27,212.

Arnold Palmer Still Favorite in Ohio Amateur

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the 25-year-old son of a Latrobe, Pa., golf profssional, still was a heavy favorite to retain his Ohio Amateur championship as third round play started at the Sylvania Country Club today. But there was speculation he won't do it without a struggle.

The cumbersome 153-man field which started the tourney trek Monday was down to 16 starting today. By tonight only four will remain for tomorrow's 36-hole semifinal rounds.

Palmer was pressed in both his matches yesterday, having to come from behind both times and was three down twice to 17-year-old Toledo junior champion Lee Raymond before finally beating the youngster, 2 to 1.

A tourney-wise veteran, Ed Preisler, the 1946 champ from Cleveland, stole the spotlight with a birdie-filled round. He was four under par on the front nine and two under for 16 holes as he sidelined the 1954 runnerup, Howard B. Saunders of Gallipolis, 3 and 2.

A burst of close-to-par performances indicated that the golfers are getting onto Sylvania's exacting layout and two of the co-medalists found themselves out of the running. Ex-Yale golfer Bob Barton, Columbus, bowed to Jack Wehlan, Canton, 4 and 3, and Ohio State star George Smith of Dayton fell before Dorsey Nevergall, a veteran Lima campaigner, 1 up.

The other co-medalist, public links ace Carl Mengali, Columbus, breezed by two opponents and indicated he may make things rough for lower bracket players.

Frank Sullivan, rookie right-hander for the Boston Red Sox, was a combat infantryman in Korea.

Witnesses

By George Sokolsky

The attack on conscious and active anti-Communists continues in many forms. The attack is now concentrated against what is referred to as the informer. Of such, there must be thousands in the United States, men and women, who call attention to publications, circulars, movies, meetings, and all sorts of activities which they believe to be subversive.

SOKOLSKY

Some make sense; some are nonsense. Some represent good will and patriotism; some are nothing more than personal spite and hatred.

It takes a very thorough knowledge of the Communist movement to be able to evaluate this material.

For instance, a publication is issued in Union, N. J., called "Common Sense," which regards itself as anti-Communist and is so accepted by many. It has some circulation and is offered for sale in bulk. I have before me an issue of that paper which is headed: "The Coming Red Dictatorship."

THE SUB-HEAD reads: "Asiatic Marxist Jews control Entire World as Last World War Commences..." There is more of this.

The first words of the article are: "You will be shot." Four streamers of photographs show a number of Americans who are Jews; including Bernard Baruch, who is described as "most influential man in the world." The last photograph on that line is David Dubinsky who has been more effective in the fight against world Communism than any 10 anti-Communists I know of.

Such a publication is not the way to fight Communism nor does it provide Americans with data to help them evaluate the Communist movement in the United States. This is anti-Semitism in its most direct form.

On the other hand, most of the authentic data on the nature and activities of the American Communist movement must come from former members and particularly officials of the Communist party and from undercover men and women put into the party by the FBI and police agencies. The reason that this can be the only source is that there is no other.

Some who were not former Communists and undercover agents may have worked with material sufficiently to be able to evaluate the testimony they give. Again, among anti-Communists are doctrinaire persons who have vested interest in their own theories.

Again, there are some who while they are now anti-Communists remain Marxists; their hatred for Russia is fierce because they hold that the Russians abandoned Marx and have reverted to Bakunin. In any evaluation of their testimony, these criteria must be given due consideration.

I know those who are referred to as "professional witnesses." They are former Communists or undercover agents who are often called before grand juries, congressional committees and court cases.

They are sincere fighters against Communism and in spite of the fact that some of them accept a per diem fee, they serve at a sacrifice and receive less than they could earn at other work. Most of them earn less than their attackers do, and the attackers generally are inadequately informed about this movement which has succeeded in doing this country such damage.

If such witnesses as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, Paul Crouch, and some others are frightened away from giving testimony, new witnesses may not step forward.

One of the major difficulties is that sometimes a witness, working constantly in the same material, will tell more than he has personally experienced because it is not easy to separate what one has experienced from what one has heard from another person.

LITTLE OF THIS data includes eye-witness operations; the witness has heard something at a meeting, or he has read a report, or he has seen the minutes of a meeting. We are dealing with a conspiracy and conspirators do not make it easy to uncover themselves.

If the reader is interested in a fictionized but, in my judgment, a thoroughly correct description of how this conspiracy works, he will find it in a serial recently published in "The Saturday Evening Post," entitled "The Darby Trial" by Dick Pearce.

This story is correct in every detail. It will be seen here, as it is true everywhere, that within the movement there are many conspiracies and cover-ups.

The so-called "professional witness," for one reason or another, is serving this country and is not deserving of the calumny currently being heaped upon him by those who have never done the work necessary to know this field.

For All

By James P. Mitchell

Victor Riesel is on his way to Europe to cover vital labor news breaking in that area. Today, while he is en route, James P. Mitchell, U. S. secretary of labor, is substituting for him as guest columnist.

The civilian labor force in the United States was 64,425,000 last month. At that time, 61,119,000 were employed, and 3,305,000 were unemployed.

Of those employed, 54,297,000 were in non-agricultural work, and 6,822,000 had jobs on farms. About 31 per cent of the civilian workers are women. There are approximately 17 million members of labor unions.

What helps the 64 million workers and their families generally helps the whole country. People who work have interests as workers. They also have interests as members of their cities or towns, political parties, fraternal organizations, civic bodies and religious groups, and as members of the consuming public.

It is often hard to tell which of these many, and sometimes conflicting, interests control their actions in any specific case.

ONE THING is certain, however — the basic purpose of most human action is to get food, shelter, clothing and some luxuries for themselves and their families.

President Eisenhower is very much interested in the welfare of all the working people of our country and their families. That is why he has such a fine program to help all our people. It is sound, fair and realistic. It deserves everybody's support because it is designed to meet the needs of all of our people.

Several parts of the President's program are of special interest and aid to working people:

President Eisenhower recommended extending the Old Age and Survivors' Insurance program to 10 million more persons and increasing its benefits. An act to do this has already passed the House of Representatives.

The President asked Congress to pass a new housing program which would make homes easier for low-income families to get and would help clear up slums. The Senate has already passed a good housing act.

At he President's request, Congress is now working on improving the unemployment insurance system. President Eisenhower is asking that 6 million more American workers be able to get unemployment insurance payments if they are out of work through no fault of their own. Most of these new workers to be covered by the law would be employes of smaller firms and federal civilian workers. This law will be by far the greatest extension and improvement of unemployment compensation in the history of the system.

AT THE SUGGESTION of the President, I wrote to the governors of the states, urging them to increase the duration and amounts of benefits under their unemployment insurance program. Some action has already been taken on this request. It is hoped that when most state legislatures meet next spring, more action will be taken.

To meet the health needs of our people, President Eisenhower recommends providing government reinsurance to help private and nonprofit insurance companies give broader prepaid medical and hospital care on a voluntary basis to many more people.

In addition, this administration has done much to promote the wellbeing of minority groups.

The President's Committee on Government Contracts has promoted employment opportunities on government work for members of minority groups.

In co-operation with the committee, the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia has written into contracts let by the District government clauses prohibiting discrimination.

The White House has asked the District Commissioners to make integration of the public school system of Washington under the recent Supreme Court decision a model for the Nation.

We also have virtually complete integration in the armed forces now.

There are other ways in which President Eisenhower's administration has assisted in promotion of the general welfare:

For example, there has been during 1954 a very high degree of industrial peace. The number of work stoppages, workers involved in them, man-days of idleness, and the per cent of estimated working time lost by work stoppages were all lower during the first four months of 1954 than during any corresponding period since World War II.

-:-

THE GOVERNMENT is not responsible for this industrial peace. It reflects mature and harmonious working relationships between employers and working men and women. We believe, however, that the industrial relations climate which the government has encouraged does deserve some credit for this remarkable record.

Both President Eisenhower and I believe that industrial relations matters are best handled if government intervention is held to a minimum.

This has encouraged the parties to settle their own problems.

The government has had to take strong action to protect itself against Communists. Since President Eisenhower took office, the government has arrested seven leaders of the Communist party in Connecticut; indicted 20 additional Communist leaders in Philadelphia and Cleveland; convicted Communist party leaders in New York City, Honolulu, Pittsburgh, Seattle, Detroit and St. Louis; had one person convicted for treason, two for spying, and 11 for lying to the government; deported 84 subversive aliens; ordered 268 more deported, and barred 127 from this country when they tried to come in.

The fight against Communism is going on quietly and vigorously around the clock.

We in the Department of Labor have tried to do our job fairly and well. We are enforcing laws which help workers and their families, but which also help businessmen and the public generally.

-:-

IN OUR WORK, I have stressed the importance of the public interest and the need for the government to be fair to employers and workers.

We are enforcing the laws as fairly and as well as we can. We believe that our way of doing our job has become well known by the public and is bringing the Department of Labor greater public respect and confidence.

In addition, I am having all the programs and policies of the Labor Department reviewed. As a result of this study I expect real improvement in the department's work.

You may be sure that President Eisenhower will keep on working for peace, prosperity and the well-being of all the people of America. Under his leadership, we are trying to make this an ever better country for the working men and women of the nation and their families.

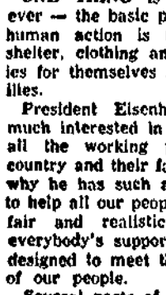
Summer in City

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

The best place to spend the summer now is in the city.

Let a friend of mine explain why. "I live in an air-conditioned apartment and work in an air-conditioned office, he said. "I've figured out a way to get to and from work in 33 minutes a day. That means I have to spend only 2 hours and 45 minutes outdoors from Monday through Friday.



HAL BOYLE

"On Friday evening I put on my pajamas and hibernate in them until Monday morning. I don't have to worry about the heat, or mosquitoes, or sunburn, or stepping on cockleburrs.

"By staying home I save money, catch up on all the books I want to read. I have even had time to get acquainted with my wife—imagine that, after all these years—and she has turned out to be a pretty interesting fellow, now that we don't have all those quarrels about where to go for the summer and how to get there."

HE'D BE A HAPPY guy except for one thing. He put it in one word: "Commuters."

"Some of our friends who own country places and used to insist on having us out for the weekend," he complained, "now want to come and visit us in the city. They've heard about how pleasant and restful it is to spend a weekend in the city. I wish I knew what to do about it."

So I told him what to do about it. Give 'em the same kind of time in the city as they gave you in the country.

The suburban nature lovers invite a weekend guest from the city for two reasons, generally:

1. They actually are miserably lonely in their bullfrog echoing dale in the wildwood, and misery loves company.

2. They are afraid their boring country neighbors will drop over, and hope the guest from the city has a personality repulsive enough to frighten the neighbors away.

—:—

USING THE SAME TACTICS, here is how the happy city dweller can repel an invasion of human locusts seeking relief from the discomforts of a summer in the country:

1. When they arrive, announce that your air-conditioner has broken down and that means a weekend in Hades, as you have the hottest apartment in town.

2. Ask if they will please take a shower while you vacuum clean their clothing, and explain politely, "We know you are all right, but some suburbanites bring more wood ticks into the city than an Airedale."

3. Tell them you've invited the neighbors over, and add cheerily, "You'll love them both. Joe does card tricks, and Maude likes to keep a party going until dawn. Anyway it'll be so hot you won't be able to sleep."

4. At dinnertime you set up a barbecue grill in the dining room and announce, "There's nothing like the taste of hot dogs grilled over charcoal indoors." But be sure to put the charcoal on top the grill and the hot dogs beneath it. Then pour lighter fluid over the hot dogs and set them afire. When the charcoal is unevenly cooked on both sides, put a chunk in a bun, and serve. If your country guests don't like to eat pure charcoal, dab on a little mustard.

5. Put a few sharp-needled pine branches between the mattress and the sheets of your guests' bed, so they won't miss that woodsy smell.

6. Just before they creep wearily to bed hand them bottles of mosquito repellant, and warn them to use it liberally. As soon as they fall asleep put a record of "Flight of the Bumblebee" on the phonograph and play it over and over. This is real psychology. They'll twist and groan and swat at the empty air for hours.

WHEN THEY DO climb sleepless from the sack, they'll chime: "Gee, you've been nice, but we'd better catch the next train back home. We're kinda homesick for the country, I guess.

"The city sure is fun to visit, but, gosh, we'd hate to live here."

As soon as they are gone you can turn on the air-conditioner and relax. Don't worry. As soon as they spread word of their experience around, you'll have your cool ivory tower in the city safe for the rest of the summer.

Americans Still Thrifty

Savings Accounts Grow Despite High Living Costs

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—People are going right on saving—it says here in the statistics put out by the government, the bankers, and the life insurance people.

It's hard for a lot of people to believe that any one can save in these days of the high cost of living, of big baby crops and larger families, of high taxes, of a business slowdown and lower take-home pay for many.

But figures released this week show that by and large Americans are putting as much or more away this year than last and that total savings continue to rise. It's going into U. S. savings bonds, into life insurance, bank deposits. Totals for all of them are rising.

And merchants will tell you—some of them rather sadly—that many consumers are putting a reverse English on saving, too. They are paying up their installment debts faster than they are staking on new debts by buying gadgets on time. Getting out of debt is one form of saving. Merchants think this can be carried too far.

There are other forms of saving which a man may not realize he's making.

"I can't save anything," a man will tell you. "After I've made the life insurance payment, paid the monthly installment on the mortgage on my house, put money each month in that fund that the wife insists we have against the time junior goes to college, why, I have a hard time finding enough to meet the payment on the car and the freezer."

But life insurance is a form of saving, a way of building an estate. A home of your own is a form of saving.

The U. S. Treasury reports that in the first half of this year of supposed recession it sold 19 per cent more in E and H savings bonds than in the same period of booming 1953, and, in fact, set an eight-year sales record. And sales are exceeding cash-ins.

Deposits in the savings banks of New York state alone increased 393 million dollars in the first half of this year.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports record purchases of new life insurance policies in the first six months of this year for a gain of 18½ billion dollars. The total of such insurance is now estimated at 319 billion dollars fo the nation as a whole.

Accident and health insurance purchases are also running much higher than a year ago.

All of this is being done, curiously enough, on a lower total of personal income, according to the Department of Commerce. It finds that in May, its latest figure, personal income totaled about one billion dollars less, on an annual rate, than in May a year ago.

The increase in savings reported so far this year also comes on top of an increase the year before. The department puts total savings by individuals in 1953 at 20 billion dollars, a gain of 1½ billion over 1952.

The fact that consumers this year so far have been reducing their total of installment and other consumer credit is counted as a form of saving. Many manufacturers and merchants think that the public is now about ready to reverse this process and start buying more on time again.

For one thing, the Commerce Department reports that for the first time since last July the total of personal income showed a gain over the previous month.

Merchants hope the increased income will be going into purchases rather than into savings.

LONG-RANGE FORECAST

Chadbourne, 67, says he has found that when the peak of Pleasant Mountain is obscured by clouds it's too damp to putter in the garden. He keeps an eye on his "barometer" 10 miles distant, through the living room window.

Mob Violence Feared After Child Is Seized

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A tall, strapping 195-pounder charged with the rape of a 5-month-old infant was held in the Lubbock County Jail today because officers feared mob violence at Seminole, Tex., the baby's home.

William Thomas Hughes, a 34-year-old ex-convict, was spirited out of Seminole by three Gaines County officers last night and brought here for "safekeeping." The police said the jail at Seminole was "not of the maximum security type."

Hughes, who stands 6 feet 2, was arrested yesterday about two miles from his abandoned automobile after the father of Jackie Jo Davis took the tot from the ex-convict and rushed her to a Seminole hospital.

Hughes and the three Gaines County officers were met last night at Brownfield by two Texas Rangers and Lubbock County Sheriff Grady Harrist, who escorted the group into Lubbock.

Harrist said Hughes talked freely about the case but maintained he could not remember what happened. The sheriff said the man appeared deeply concerned about his involvement.

Bucyrus Couple Injured In Accident at Bellevue

BUCYRUS—A Bucyrus couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Shanks, are reported in good condition today in Bellevue Hospital being treated for injuries received in an auto accident in Bellevue Monday night.

Mr. Shanks, a Spanish-American War veteran, has a fractured facial bone and lacerations, while his wife, Maude, suffered a fractured right leg and ankle and two broken ribs. Both are about 80 years old.

Also injured were the Shanks' daughter, Mrs. Martha Shaw, 46, her husband, Alexander, 45, driver of the car, and their two sons, Robert, 16, and Richard, 12. The Shaws, none of whom was seriously injured, lived in Verona, Pa.

The accident occurred when Shaw lost control of his car and crashed into a utility pole and tree, it was reported. They were returning to Bucyrus from Bay Point on Lake Erie.

MAY FLIES INVADE ST. PAUL. Millions of May or shad flies swarmed up from river waters to "plaster" lighted objects in the St. Paul, Minn., area. The short-lived flies were piled up as much as three inches deep by dawn. Service station attendant George Durose (left) covered his head with a coat for protection while servicing cars. Using a snow pusher and broom to get rid of the dead flies were George Carter (left) and his employer, P. B. Hale.

Farm Leaders Hear Kettering

GM Research Head Conference Speaker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A man who says he has spent 35 years trying to discover why grass is green yesterday urged farm leaders here to explore the multitude of things not known.

The speaker was Dr. Charles F. Kettering, industrial research director for General Motors Corp., who addressed the 11th conference of the American Farm Research Assn. here at Ohio State University.

He said:

". . . You are going to spend all the rest of your life in the future. We cannot become egotistical about the things we know and exclude the multitude of things we do not know. . . . ."

Kettering emphasized this point by saying that for 35 years he has been trying to discover why grass is green.

He was keynote speaker at the opening of the three-day session.

The Phoenicians established a colony at Carthage before 800 B.C.

Potters Seek Higher Tariff

Union Convention in Atlantic City Concludes

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters (AFL) ended its 60th convention yesterday after a 10-day meeting.

Most of the 200 delegates, who represent 23,000 potters, headed for homes in East Liverpool, Ohio, the heart of the nation's pottery industry.

Union President Frank Hull told a reporter the most important work done at the convention was rapped up in resolutions calling for higher U. S. tariffs on foreign pottery and a quota system for importation of foreign dishes.

In a report made at the start of the convention, Hull had said "foreign made pottery ware is gradually exterminating the American dinnerware industry."

Hull, serving his 22nd year as an officer of the union, said the 1955 convention will be held next July in Miami, Fla.

Bellaire Resident Held After Holdup

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — George Kramarich, who told police he was resisting a robbery attempt, shot and critically wounded Joe Vaccaro of Bellaire today.

Kramarich, who operates a bar at Weirton, W. Va., said he was blackjacked on the head after he returned to his home at nearby Deandale with the day's receipts. Kramarich, 34, said he pulled a .32 pistol and shot under his arm at the man behind him.

Vaccaro, 40, was hit once in the shoulder and twice in the abdomen. He was taken to Ohio Valley Hospital in "fair" condition. No charges were filed immediately.

Police said they were hunting another man in connection with the case.

Lower U.S. Prestige

Japanese Political Fuss Being Used by Commies

TOKYO (UP) — Japanese Communists, ordered by their underground leaders to avoid violence, are finding the current political controversy in Japan exactly to their liking.

It's just what they need in their campaign to lower American prestige in Japan and to make the United States the villain in the eyes of the average Japanese citizen.

—:—

WITH PREMIER SHIGERU Yoshida being besieged by criticism from all political sides, the Communists have a tailor-made opportunity to make their influence felt.

Avowed Reds can scream all the louder against Yoshida's pro-American government, the shipbuilding scandal and Japanese rearmament.

And Communists who hide their party ties can safely join the protests, for who can pinpoint them among the conservatives, liberals, left-wingers and ultra-rightists who also criticize Yoshida?

Japan's Communist Party currently is on the wane. It is estimated there now are from 20,000 to 30,000 dues-paying Reds in the nation, compared with the 100,000 who registered as Communists in 1950. Only one Communist now holds a Diet seat, compared with 35 in 1949.

Nominally the Japanese party is leaderless, the top Reds being driven underground in 1950. But actually the leaders exercise complete and autocratic control over their followers.

"The rank and file of the Communist Party," one source said, "merely obeys and carries out the orders of their underground leaders who direct the constantly changing tactics of violence and revolution."

THE ALLIES, strangely enough, used the same purge ordinance to remove the Communists from political activity in 1950, as they did to exile politically the ultra-nationalists four years earlier. When the Communist leaders failed to report on their activites as they were required to do, arrest warrants were sworn out. But when police attempted to find them, they had disappeared.

Who are the top men in the Japanese Communist Party?

There is Kyuichi Tokuda, 60, secretary-general of the JaJpan Communist Party. Imprisoned for 18 years by the pre-war Japanese, he was released by the Allies. Under his influence, the party elected 35 members to the Diet in 1949 and polled nearly three million votes. He was purged by the Allies in 1950 and went underground. There have been reports that he now is in Moscow.

There is Sanzo Nosaka, 63. He returned to Japan after the war, ending 16 years of exile in China. In 1950, however, he was scolded by his Soviet masters for his "peaceful" revolutionary tactics and was forced to write a "self-criticism admitting his error. He also went underground.

Number three is Yoshio Shiga, 53, who was imprisoned with Tokuda for 18 years. After the Allies released him, he took over as editor of Aahata (Red Flag), the party newspaper. Now underground.

They are the men directing the Japanese Communist Party. But they are having a rough time and have been forced to change tactics from time to time.

"It is an indisputable fact," said an official government source "that the Japanese nation has become more cautious and antagonistic toward the Communists.

—:—

"THE COMMUNISTS themselves weren't slow to recognize the disadvantages of bandishing the old Communist banner and gradually shifted their tactics to flank movements.

"Now the party has dropped the banner of 'socialist revolution' and has decided to appear to Japanese psychology with a new cry of 'peace' and 'independence'."

Ironically, the Allies, particularly America, fostered the very party they would now like to see wiped out in Japan.

When the war ended and party leaders returned or were released, the Communists greatly expanded their influence under Allied protection. Gaining enough influence, they suddenly switched tactics, a move they have made three times since the war's end.

At first they called for cooperation with the Allies. But after Nozaka was dressed down for being to "peaceful," they switched to militant tactics.

In June, 1950, 24 members of the central committee and 17 members of Akahata were purged, and nine leaders went underground. From that point on there was increasing violence, climaxed by the bloody 1592 May Day riots.

But someone switched signals again, and on the 30th anniversary nf the party in July, 1952, Tokuda issued in a Russian publication a criticism of violence. He called it "meaningless."

Buffalo Man Pays $25 To Get $15 Loan Back

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—"I was chasing a man who owed me $15," said Nolan Holloway, pleading guilty in Traffic Court to a speeding charge.

"That's a foolish way to get your money," Judge Madge Taggert replied. "You're going to lose it now."

He did — plus $10. The fine was $25.

Aid From State Reported At Schools in Crawford

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's 10 rural schools received $208,618 in state foundation funds during the past year, County School Supt. S. K. Sollars reported today.

The schools employed 134 teachers, including some parttime instructors. The average salary for elementary teachers was $2,933 while high school teachers averaged $3,486 and administrators' average was $4,535, Supt. Sollars said. Net enrollment was 2,673, including 1,531 in the first six grades and 1,132 in the upper six grades.

New school buses were purchased at Trio, New Washington, Sulphur Springs and North Robinson.

Barbecued Porkies With Tomato Sauce Will Be Hit of Your Picnic

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are the prepare-beforehand type of outdoor cook, we think you will be enthusiastic about our latest discovery — Barbecued Porkies.

In the quiet and convenience of your own kitchen, you simmer a thrifty boneless pork shoulder butt until tender, and make up a quick and spicy tomato barbeque sauce. Then you pack your picnic basket with ham, sauce, sliced cooked potatoes and fat for frying, rolls, skillets, coffee and coffee pot, longhandled fork and spoon, toasting rack, and the necessary eating utensils. You also take along something for outdoor nibbling: celery and radishes with cheese, for instance. For dessert you supply watermelon or some other refreshing fruit.

When the coals are glowing, ham and sauce are put together in one skillet and heated, potatoes fried golden-brown in the other skillet, rolls toasted, coffee made. It's a mighty good eating! Chances are that if you like these Barbequed Porkies as much as we do, you will prepare them for indoor suppers, too.

BARBEQUED PORKIES

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup finely diced onion, ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup chili sauce, 1 cup tomato juice, 2 tablespoons Worchestershire sauce, 6 tablespoons cider or other salad vinegar, 2 to 2¼ pounds boneless smoked pork shoulder butt (cooked), 10 sandwich buns.

Method: Melt butter in large skillet; add onion and cook over low heat until it begins to get tender. Add sugar, salt, chili sauce, tomato juice, Worcestershire and vinegar; simmer, stirring occasionally, until sauce has thickened somewhat — about ½ hour. Store in covered jar in refrigerator. At serving time, quickly heat ham (cut in about ¼-inch thick slices) in sauce. Serve ham and sauce over split toasted sandwich buns. Makes 10 servings.

Note: To cook the pork butt, cover it with boiling water in a kettle; add a slightly crushed garlic clove, 6 whole cloves, 6 peppercorns, a bay leaf; cover and simmer until tender—1½ to 2 hours.

"The Complete Book of Barbecue and Rotisserie Cooking" by Jim Beard (recently published by Bobbs-Merrill in hard cover, by Maco in soft cover), is a book we can recommend to anyone interested in the direct-heat method of preparing food. Whether you do your barbecue cooking outdoors over coals, or indoors on an electric spit, you will find here hundreds of suggestions for management and preparation by a man who knows a powerful lot about good food. And there's a chapter on "Cooking with Smoke," too. The discerning comment all through the book makes it extremely readable. Among the recipes, you will find many simple ones that are particularly delicious. Here, for example, is one:

SAUTEED POTATOES

Sauteed potatoes are easily prepared for outdoor eating. Slice peeled raw potatoes fairly thin and soak them in cold water for an hour or so. If you are cooking steak or roast beef, cut away a little of the beef fat or get a little extra from the butcher. Cut the fat very fine, put it in a skillet (a heavy iron or cast-aluminum skillet is best) and let it melt. You will need about 1 tablespoon of suet per potato. When it is melted and the bits of suet have turned crisp, add the potato slices, dried on paper towels, and let them saute gently. Turn them often with a large spatula. They should be nicely browned, crisp and thoroughly cooked through. Don't break them as you turn them. Add salt and plenty of freshly ground black pepper. Potatoes cooked this way with bits of crisp suet are unforgettable good and just the thing with hearty outdoor roasts or steaks.

FOR OUTDOOR APPETITES. Juicy ham slices in spicy tomato barbecue sauce.

PURCHASE MORE NEW CARS

BUCYRUS — Crawford County residents purchased 129 new automobiles last month, the second highest monthly total of 1954, Clerk of Courts C. William Dustman reported here today. Last April 160 new cars were sold while sales in June, 1953, 141 cars were sold. During June, 28 new trucks were sold in the county, the largest monthly total of the year. Ten new trucks were purchased by a Galion concern.

ROOSTER RAPTURE

PORTLAND, Me. — (UP) — Petey the rooster — a pet in the Richard Bowen household—is a bird that shows gratitude. Petey follows around all day the member of the family who lets him out of his kitchen cage in the morning.

71 Injured, 12 Killed in Area Auto Accidents

BUCYRUS—State Highway Patrolmen working out of District Two, which has its headquarters here and covers 10 northern Ohio counties investigated 291 accidents during June in which 12 persons were killed and 71 injured.

Over the district, which comprises six sub-posts, including a sub-post here, patrolmen arrested 1,339 motorists and issued 2,438 warnings. Of the arrests, 1,086 were for traffic violations, 245 for registration and overload failings and eight for felonies.

In other activities, district patrolmen went on 113 special details, gave seven safety talks, recovered $2,500 in property, weighed 8,644 trucks, gave 1,900 driver examinations and collected $913 in registration fees.

Bucyrus sub-post patrolmen were called out on 21 accidents last month compared with 30 investigated in May. One person was killed and 18 injured in the accidents.

A sharp decrease in the number of warnings issued by Bucyrus post patrolmen was noted last month compared with May. In June, 416 warnings were issued compared with 1,305 issued in May when the patrol's program of intensive traffic "checks" was being stressed. Arrests made during June totaled 168 compared to 194 in May.

Counties in the district are Ottawa, Sandusky, Erie, Huron, Seneca, Wyandot, Crawford, Richland, Marion and Morrow.

Bodies of Drowning Victims Recovered

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP)—The bodies of a 27-year-old Marion County man and his young son, still clasped in his father's arms, were pulled from the Monongahela River yesterday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Lohr Yeager said the victims, William Herron of Catawba and his 6-year-old son Wilber, had been missing since Sunday, soon after they went out in a homemade boat.

The boat, with side paddle wheels that Herron had constructed himself, was found Sunday night.

Officer Just Off Duty

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two police cars moved into the 800 block of East Broad Street here last night to investigate a "large white man wearing a T-shirt and a straw hat" and reported to have a pistol in his pocket.

It turned out to be another policeman—off duty but required to carry his weapon at all times.

Elyria Paper Still Fighting Against Pike

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—City council agreed last night to stick by its peace pact with the Ohio Turnpike Commission in spite of a statement by the council president that the city was "treated shabbily' in settling the right-of-way dispute.

By the same 5 - 4 vote which okayed the pact a week ago, council rejected an appeal by its president, Kenneth B. Lord, that the lengthy controversy be reopened because he was "ashamed of the bargain we made.'

The commission has offered to pay Elyria $135,000 in exchange for the city giving up its demand that $500,000 be spent for overpasses.

But as the turnpike commission meets today in Columbus to award a contract for construction of the long delayed stretch of toll road across northern Elyria, an attorney promised to file a taxpayer's suit here to continue the fight.

R. H. Rice, counsel for the Elyria Chronicle Telegram, which has opposed the commission's routing of the 240-mile toll road, said he would challenge the legality of the settlement reached by council and the commission. He said the peace-pact resolution was not an emergency measure and was not given the three readings required by law.

Galion Food Supervisor To Appear on TV Show

A Galion woman, Mrs. Jessie Essex of 312½ S. Union St., will be a guest cook on Jeanne Shea's Kitchen Fair television program Friday at 11 a.m. over Station WBNS, Channel 10, in Columbus.

Food supervisor for the Galion City Hospital, Mrs. Essex has served in that capacity 10 years. She is well known for her civic and church work and is the newly-elected president of the Galion Business and Professional Women's Club.

During the 30-minute program, Mrs. Essex will prepare some of her favorite recipes, featuring summer snow desserts, stuffed lake pickerel and French style green bean casserole.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat held firm at the opening on the Board of Trade today but new crop soybeans declined and corn showed an easy undertone.

Wheat started ⅛ to 1 cent higher, July $2.03½, corn ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, July $1.59⅝-½, oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, July 71⅛, and soybeans 2½ lower to ¾ higher, July $3.83-83½.

The mechanical fuel pump which supplanted the vacuum tank, led to many improvements in motor vehicles.

Work on Sewer Started

A PROJECT TO CORRECT an "odorous" condition caused by the Columbia St. open ditch sewer on Marion's southwest side started Wednesday. First part of the project was to clean out and repair an interceptor at the outlet of a large sewer tile discharging into the ditch. Here, Ralph Forrest, safety-service director points out the second part of the project to John V. Ruth, assistant city engineer. It is to clean out the open ditch and remove a hump in the ditch to help eliminate a stagnant pool visible between the two men.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today, with some gains running to two points or so.

Aircrafts and selected rails were among the market leaders. Also higher were the radio-televisions, steels, motion pictures, motors and utilities. Chemicals and oils were mixed and airlines unchanged to lower.

The aircrafts had the advantage of a Washington announcement that a billion dollars worth of planes will be ordered shortly. That sent North American, Boeing and Douglas to gains of a point or so in early afternoon.

In the rails, gains of a couple of points were made by Western Pacific and Atlantic Coast Line, Santa Fe and Kansas City Southern traded up around a point at one time.

Other good gains were made by Alcoa, Vanadium, Kennecott, Zenith, Admiral, Commercial Solvents, Wardell, United Fruit, Westinghouse, General Motors, Chrysler, Republic Steel and New York Central.

Among lower shares were du Pont, Union Carbide, Union Pacific and U.S. Gypsum.

Ireland Expects Tourist Boost

DUBLIN (UP) — Ireland spent $200 000 on domestic improvements to spread an attractive welcome mat into the Atlantic to help American tourists ashore this year

It is predicted that 1954 will show a 50 per cent increase over the number of tourists here in 1953

In their bid to entice more and more visitors to Ireland, officials are campaigning to take tourists' minds off such present day unmentionables as leprechauns, shillelaghs and hard-drinking Irishmen

But the old Blarney Stone is still on the "Okay" list This lipstick-smeared piece of limestone, 83 feet above the ground in crumbling Blarney Castle, is still the most valuable tourist gem in the Emerald Isle

An estimated 20,000 people pay 18 cents each year to trudge up 133 slippery steps in the tiny spiral staircase to see the gift-of-gab stone

The stone is set in a parapet that juts out two feet from the top of the 15th century castle, and the space between parapet and stone is connected by three narrow iron bars with enough white space in between to make it look risky

The guardian who holds tourists securely as they brave / kiss Blarney is 80-year-old Matt Shea He says he scrubs lipstick off the stone three times a day during the height of the season to "purify Blarney"

Matt grips the men by the ankles, flips them over and holds on as they lie on their back, throw their heads towards the ground and kiss

Matt takes a little more time with women Their indoctrination often includes a friendly bear hug before the flip-and-lower routine —except when the Navy comes in

"Sailors always hold their own girls," said Matt sadly.

MEN TREK NORTH

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP)—Bow and arrow hunters from the United States are expected here for the next moose hunting season, says Chief Game Warden Harry Walters. This type of moose hunting was legalized last year But it was too late for the big hunting clubs of the United States They had made prior arrangements.

Rabbit Feature Brings Woe to Australia Artist

SYDNEY (UP) — Love of animals established an Australian artist as one of this country's top comic-strip creators whose work has won the praise of education authorities.

This same strong love of animals also has brought Nan Fullarton numerous vehement protests from farmers who object to her strip advocating suspension of the use of myxomatosis in Australia's effort to cut the rabbit population.

Rabbits are the "great grey plague" of Australia, causing yearly damage estimated at $1 10 for each of the nation's 9,000,000 population.

"As a country woman, myself, I appreciate the scourge that rabbits are to our Australian farmers, but surely our scientists can evolve a more humane method of extermination than by myxomatosis," said Miss Fullarton, who in private life is Mrs P. Denny, mother of a 14-year-old daughter, Christina.

"One does not need to be a sentimentalist to be shocked at the lingering torture that myxomatosis virus produces For this reason I confess to the wholehearted admiration for our rabbits, who, with praiseworthy adaptability, are already evolving a generation immune to myxomatosis. And for the same reason, I decided to instigate a one-woman campaign against myxomatosis through my 'Frisky' strip."

Frisky is the name of the rabbit that Miss Fullarton has made the central character in her weekly strip. In the delicately drawn series, Frisky contracted myxomatosis, but with the help of his friends, the constant care of his mother, and an anti-toxin injection he survived.

Miss Fullarton admitted the farmers' protests, but claimed that "my other readers — as many adults as children — seem to have followed the course of his illness with anxiety, and finally relief.

"I cherish the hope that future generation of Australian farmers, brought up on 'Frisky,' will ban the use of myxomatosis entirely," she added "Of course, failing an humane alternative, the rabbit could eventually take over the country and Australia could be lost to the Empire."

Major War May Hinge On Red Stand at Geneva

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment the clearest thing that can be said about the Geneva conference on Indochina is that it is not clear at all. Visibility should improve in the next few days. The conference is near a climax.

The Communists have victory within their grasp. But if their appetite is too big Indochina might turn into a shooting war that could involve the United States.

The French for almost eight years have been fighting the Communist-led Vietminh in Viet Nam, one of Indochina's three states. Now they want peace.

It seems certain French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, meeting at Geneva with Russia's V. M. Molotov and Red Chinas Chou En-Lai, is willing to let the Vietminh have the northern part of Viet Nam while the French retain the southern half.

—:—

BEING ABLE TO FORCE the French into this kind of settlement would, by itself, be a clear victory for the Communists. That much, and no more, seems certain now.

What isn't clear is this: Will the Communists demand only half of Viet Nam or all of it? And if only half, on what conditions? And if the Communists press Mendes-France, will he, to get peace at any price, yield all of Viet Nam?

When he took over the French government almost a month ago he promised he'd get peace in Indochina within 30 days or quit.

If he quit and the French felt their efforts for an "honorable" peace had been spurned, their fighting spirit might revive to carry on the war with greater sacrifices than they've been willing to make in eight years.

They probably would not do so without assurances of active help on their side by the United States. Just how much help the United States and Britain would give has been one of the most thoroughly unclear parts of the whole picture.

MENDES-FRANCE met two days this week in Paris with Secretary of State Dulles and Britains Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. They later issued a cheery statement which threw no light on a military agreement, if any.

Nevertheless, the Communists have to gamble on settling for less than everything or asking too much and facing the prospect of full-scale resumption of the war, plus the danger of American and British intervention.

From Dulles' public statements they could hardly guess what the United States might do. On April 17, nine days before the Geneva conference opened, he said it was "unlikely" American troops would be sent to Indochina.

On May 7 Dulles said unless there was an "honorable" armistice there would be urgent need for "united action" to defend the area. He said Congress would have to be consulted and "only Congress can declare war."

On May 25 he said "We don't go in alone ... We go in where the United Nations gives moral sanction to our action.' On June 11 he said France must pledge to fight on until victory before American and Allied intervention in Southeast Asia.

IF THE COMMUNISTS settle for northern Viet Nam—and the United States and Britain guarantee to help the French if the Vietminh ever cross the dividing line—the Communists will be agreeing to letting the Allies make southern Viet Nam an armed camp and an almost insuperable barrier against further advance.

They may demand this: a temporary division of Viet Nam with French agreement that within a certain time the Vietnamese will be allowed to vote in free elections for the government they want, after which the French would withdraw.

If the French buy that, the Allies can just about kiss off Indochina. Reports from there have indicated the Vietnamese in French territory now would vote for the Vietminh.

If the French make any deal by which they agree to withdraw from all of Indochina, the Allies can kiss off all Indochina. The Communists won't have to attack the rest of it. They can be depended upon to subvert it from within.

The Communists may decide the best way to foul up the West is simply to demand part of Viet Nam under a truce arrangement. That would turn Indochina into another Korea. There'd be no peace. But the Communists would have time for maneuvers.

Job Agency Says Men Sign Up for Housework

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Lulu B. Bryden, director of the Volunteers of America's free employment bureau, observed yesterday that men are applying for household jobs hereabouts.

"Men are much more willing than women to hire out for housecleaning, floor waxing and odd jobs about the house,' said Mrs. Bryden.

Westinghouse Starts Work on Plant in Upper

UPPER SANDUSKY — C. E. Gaffney, plant superintendent, today broke ground for the $1,000,000 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here. Turning the sod with a chrome plated shovel was the first step in the excavating and foundation work for the one-story building.

The ceremony was attended by Upper Sandusky civic officials, Westinghouse executives from the small motor division headquarters plant at Lima and company officials of the Austin Co. of Cleveland, which will build the new plant.

C. C. Shutt, manager of the small motor division, spoke briefly, commenting that "this new plant in Upper Sandusky exemplifies the company's confidence that this growth will continue throughout the years to come."

Mayor Harold Koehler welcomed the company to the city. Shutt presented the city with the shovel used in the ceremony and E. W. Schmidt, chairman of industrial development committee of the Chamber of Commerce, accepted the shovel, in the absence of L. Kuenzli, president of the C of C. The shovel will be placed in the local museum.

Production is expected to get under way sometime in 1955 at the Upper Sandusky plant which will produce the smaller sizes of fractional horsepower motors.

FELLED BY HEAT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—One case of heat prostration was reported yesterday. The victim was L. M. Duckworth, an ice cream salesman.

UNCONCERNED over what the world may think of his strange hat, this young man of Frankfurt, Germany, is quite relaxed under a king-size lid. The photographer got a stern view of the youngster, who obviously is unwilling to sacrifice any of his comfort to convention.

Oven Does Work

Pimiento, Lemon Juice Flavor Chicken Dressing

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This chicken was made to order A friend wrote to say that she was particularly fond of a recipe of ours that called for baking chicken quarters over a simple herb-seasoned dry bread crumb stuffing. She had used the recipe a good deal and so she asked, "Do you have anything similar — but flavored differently?"

The recipe below is our answer chicken quarters layered over a dressing that this time is made with buttery tidbits of fresh bread and flavored piquantly with lemon juice, parsley and pimiento.

We like this dish for company because you can put it in the oven half an hour or so before dinner is to be served and forget about it. When everyone is ready to sit down, out comes the chicken-tender as can be and a beautiful golden-brown atop its good dressing. So easy to serve, too, if you follow our directions for placing the chicken on aluminum foil. If you are having a party of eight, you will find this recipe is an easy one to double.

Since you will have your oven on for the chicken, you might as well bake potatoes at the same time to serve with it. But if the potatoes are large ones, put them in the oven a little ahead of the chicken to make sure they get done. Corn on the cob and a salad of raw fresh vegetables will round out the main course: dessert might be a fruit shortcake. Or if you are in a take-it-easy mood, serve the chicken with just a hearty salad of lettuce, pineapple and berrytopped cottage cheese; for dessert have a coffee gelatin mold or a chocolate Bavarian cream so as not to repeat the fruit flavors of the salad. You can make the coffee or chocolate desserts in the morning, or even the night before, and save yourself last-minute preparation.

CHICKEN ANITA

Ingredients: 1 quart tiny soft bread cubes (about 8 thin slices bread with crusts on), 1 cup chopped canned drained pimiento, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 to 2½ ponds (ready-to-cook weight) frying chicken (quartered), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1½ teaspoons butter (melted).

Method: Mix bread cubes with pimiento, parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, butter and 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Line a shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Place 4 mounds of stuffing apart from each other on the foil, using about 1 cup in each mound. Clean chicken; pat dry. Sprinkle inside of each piece of chicken lightly with salt; place one-quarter chicken over each mound of stuffing. Mix 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1½ teaspoons melted butter; brush chicken with mixture. Bake (uncovered) in a hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender and golden-brown. Cut foil into 4 pieces and serve chicken on foil, if desired. Or remove chicken and dressing from foil with large spatula. Makes 4 servings.

Winds From Atom Blast May Extinguish Blazes

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Fires started by the heat on an H-bomb or A-bomb blast may be extinguished in many cases by winds from the force of the explosion, University of California engineers at Los Angeles indicated.

In studise at the university's engineering school, it was discovered that blast winds completely extinguished in most cases the fires ignited by the bomb's heat. Materials such as cloth and newspapers were tested and were extinguished in the test although several elements continued to smoulder.

No Aggressors in U.N.

The United States may lose its argument over letting a government branded an aggressor by the United Nations become a member of that organization.

But the United Nations would be the ultimate loser, not the United States. Either the U.N. is an organization to outlaw armed force—or it is nothing. The governments that are trying to turn it into some kind of a diplomatic accrediting agency must never have read the U. N. charter.

Some of them have given diplomatic recognition to Communist China. The United States has not done this and does not intend to, although there is a strong case to be made for acknowledging that the government in Peiping is, in fact the government of China and that the Nationalist government in Formosa is a shadow regime which is unlikely to return to the mainland.

But even if the United States recognized the Communist government of China, there still would be no excuse for admitting it to the United Nations.

The U. N. was never intended to be an all-inclusive organization. Its membership was to be restricted to nations that had met all the qualifications stated in the charter. Some nations were not expected to be qualified.

Membership was to be open only to "peace-loving states" which accepted the obligations of the charter and which would be able to carry them out, in the judgment of the U. N.

In the judgment of the U. N., Communist China committed aggression in Korea. In the Geneva conference, Communist China's spokesmen have shown open contempt for the United Nations. It cannot be helped that the Soviet Union and some of its satillites moved in on the ground floor of an organization to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy. But it can be helped that the Soviet Union now is trying to bring an aggressor into the organization from the outside.

The United States may be unable to keep the other members of the United Nations from betraying the charter they accepted. But it would be untrue to itself if it didn't try to protect the organization which was caused to be created at San Francisco in 1945 for the express prupose of outlawing the aggression Communist China committed in Korea and is repeating in Indochina.

Mechanized Farming

The national job total rose 989,000 from May to June, mostly because of the normal pickup in farm employment. One can only guess how much additional farm labor it would take in 1954 to handle the harvest-time work by old-fashioned methods.

The energy that used to be supplied on farms by the muscles of men and animals now comes abundantly and far more quickly from the explosion of fuel in internal combustion engines. Mechanized farming has not supplanted muscle farming; it has supplemented it. Otherwise, it would have been impossible to produce the food necessary to support a vast industrial society, with something to spare.

When the United States still was predominantly rural, the efforts of about two thirds of the population were required to provide necessary food and fibers. Today, the United States is predominantly industrial; it takes perhaps as little as a third of its population to man the farms. And the modern farmer should be almost as much of a mechanic as a farmer.

He needs to be an expert with machines that harvest hay, grain and cotton. He must understand all types of mechanical devices, from pumps to airplanes. He needs to know electronics and have a working knowledge of antibiotics. Not all farmers master these things, but the most successful ones either master them or gradually lose out in a kind of competition that puts a premium on the efficient combination of mechanization with the wisdom about crops, weather and animals which always will be the good farmer's key secret.

More Reappraisal

So much attention is being given to "agonizing reappraisals" of foreign policy that some reappraisals of domestic policy are being ignored. Perhaps they are not accompanied by enough agony to get the attention they deserve.

One of them is the Eisenhower administration's belief that private enterprise should be given a chance to supplant government wherever it can perform with equal or greater efficiency. There is a master plan in the works to have every department, bureau and agency of the federal government review its operations in a search for functions that could be turned over to private enterprise at a saving in public cost.

While the newly announced plan of the U. S. Air Force to turn over the preparation and serving of food at its Enid, Okla., base is not part of this master plan, it is typical, nevertheless, of some of the possibilities. The catering ficiency of its professional organization.
firm that would do the job contends it could serve the meals cheaper because of the ef-

The Air Force is willing to gamble on private enterprise. The Eisenhower administration is betting on it, too. There has been no more sweeping reappraisal of domestic policy than to have the federal government working with private enterprise instead of against it.

Significant Development

By David Lawrence

Indochina Could Mark Turn in World Strategy

The Moscow and Peiping governments have been given a chance to demonstrate whether they believe in "peaceful co-existence" or unabated aggression.

Secretary Dulles went to Paris to find out whether there was any chance for a real negotiation to end the Indochina war. If there was he planned to return to Washington this week and send Undersecretary Smith to carry on at Paris or Geneva.

If there is no chance, Dulles will, when he comes back explain the situation to the American people, and the United States will disassociate itself from any settlement that appears to be heading toward an abandonment of the opportunities of the three associated states of Indochina to realize their hopes for freedom from Communist domination.

Any idea that the whole Indochina problem is going to be solved either at Paris or Geneva in time for the July 20 deadline set by Premier Mendes-France can be dismissed now.

Unquestionably, if there is any tangible hope for an agreement, it will take many weeks to iron it out. Thus the French premier is expected to resign next Tuesday, but President Coty will not accept the resignation and will ask Mendes-France to continue on for a while at the head of the government. The French Parliament undoubtedly will grant the extension of time.

IF THE SITUATION looks hopeful, the negotiations at Geneva may take at least three or four weeks. Memories of Panmunjom, where the Korean armistice was negotiated during several months, make that estimate a bit optimistic but the pressure on both sides for a settlement is greater in this instance. It all depends on how far Moscow and Peiping are willing to go to exploit a new position they may assume as peace-makers.

It's a rare opportunity for their propaganda and, if they really want "peaceful co-existence," the Indochina war offers a constructive opportunity to show their good faith.

There are some folks in the world who naively believe the Indochina war is just a natural movement by the people there to gain independence and that the rebels are merely persons who have embraced Communism as a political philosophy.

The evidence shows clearly that Red China has been guilty of aggression in neighboring countries.

HERE ARE the words of Secretary Dulles bearing on this point, taken from a confidential session with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of just a few weeks ago, as officially released now by the Senate for publication:

"The situation in Indochina is fraught with danger, not only to the immediate area, but to the security of the United States and its allies in the Pacific area. That area is one which is vital to the peace and safety of the United States.

"Communist China has been supplying to the Vietminh an ever increasing volume of munitions and military supplies. There is also evidence that Soviet arms have been supplied in increasing quantities to Communist forces in Indochina.

"In their classic manner the Communists have sought to capitalize on local aspirations for independence, and have used these aspirations to gain control of a movement which was primarily nationalistic in its inception.

"The rulers of Communist China train and equip in China the troops of their puppet, Ho Chi-Minh. They supply these troops with large amounts of artillery and ammunition made in Soviet bloc countries. They supply military and technical guidance in the staff section of Ho Chi-Minh's command, at the division level, and in specialized units such as the signal and engineering corps, artillery units, and transportation.

"The plan is not only to take over Indochina but to dominate all of Southeast Asia. The struggle thus carries a grave threat not only to Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia but also to such friendly neighboring countries as Thailand, Malaya, Burma, Indonesia, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand."

THE SECRETARY advocated the grant of flexible authority to use the current appropriations for whatever may be needed in any new situation that arises in Southeast Asia.

If there is a cease-fire and an armistice, it is likely that military support will be built up behind the lines to guarantee that the settlement will not be violated. America will help to finance this just as in the case in supporting the Korean armistice line.

Once a cease-fire is attained in Indochina, the military stalemate there will resemble the one in Korea, but the free world will wait now to see if there is any sincere desire by the Communists to set up such a line at all and end the aggression or whether for a while it will merely relieve the Communists' mischief-making strategists from duties in Southeast Asia and turn all such energies toward fomenting more trouble in Tunis and Morocco.

The "cold war" has reached a significant stage.

What's the Rush?

By TRUMAN TWILL

The first automobile trip I ever made was 120 miles in a three-quarter-ton Reo truck in the early twenties. Up to that time, my touring had been limited to quick trips in and out of town.

There was no way to get any information about the roads for the 120-mile trip, and they proved to be horrible beyond description. It rained all day. Twice, it was necessary to rout out a farmer with a team of horses to pull the truck out of a ditch. Hard surfaced roads at that time consisted of water-bound macadam in the open country, brick in the towns. Gravel and clay roads were the rule, not the exception.

The 120 miles — 60 going and 60 coming — took all day and far into the night. Gasoline was a problem. Every time another vehicle was met head-on, one driver, or the other had "to lay over." Roads were surfaced for only one car width; the other half was unimproved.

Yet, this was one of the heavily traveled routes of its day. A third of a century later it is still one of the most intensively used public roads in the United States although with many stretches of inadequate width and quality for modern traffic.

We think about it whenever we read another description of the toll roads which apparently are going to be the most satisfactory solution to the problem raised by high-speed "automotion." The problem is how to bring highways abreast of automobiles, the engineering marvels of the 20th century.

Next to toll roads, the next best solution to the problem is going to be the freeway — the cream of the public roads. After the freeway will be the main federal and state routes, some of them serving as alternates to the toll roads and therefore getting the benefit of all political decisions.

Below these will be all other roads — secondary state roads, county roads, township roads and so on down the list to the poorest of the local roads. And these last will be an improvement over most interstate highways as recently as a third of a century ago.

It is comforting to think of this whenever some public figure jumps into the news with a provocative blast about highways — that in such a relatively short time so much has been done that would have been considered impossible at the outset.

Sometimes, some of the itchy-twitchy people in this itchy-twitchy country seem to have the notion that everything can be made perfect in one lifetime. They talk as if they wanted to bulldoze everything flat, cover it with a slab of concrete, put civilization on motor-driven roller skates and call it a day.

Give the boys a little more time. Give the taxpayers and consumers who ultimately must sweat out and grunt through every dollar of expenditure a chance to catch their breath. Actually, everybody now seems to be getting where he is going in plenty of time—and some get there a little sooner, than they expected to, rest their souls. What's the rush?

Daily Bible Thought

Even our enemies may have some lovable qualities. We may hate their sins, but not an immortal soul. "He that loveth not knoweth not God, for God is love." —2 Tim. 3:7.

All sorts of out-of-the-way corners of the world are written up as offering dirt-cheap vacations — to anybody who is rich enough to get there.

Significance of Oregon Election

By Raymond Moley

BEND, Ore. It is not surprising that the immense federal expenditures in the Northwest should give tone and color to its politics. For such spending not only creates a state of dependency upon the federal government, but aligns people according to their faith and belief in the dominance of the government in private affairs.

This year that division will be sharply drawn in Oregon, where Sen. Cordon must seek re-election.

Federal appropriations for hydro-electric power facilities in the Northwest have mounted with the years. In the first five years of Roosevelt - Ickes spending— the years when Bonneville and Grand Coulee were initiated—appropriations were 135 million dollars. In the next five years they were $221 million dollars. In the next five years, which spanned the end of the war and the first Truman term, they fell back to 121 million dollars. But with the flowering of the Fair Deal and the great wave of inflation, appropriations were more than a billion dollars.

FROM HERE ON, figures must be in terms of wants or, if you will, necessities. Their meaning, moreover, will have to be in terms of what will be spent, not by the federal government alone but by federal, state, and local government, by public utility districts, and by private companies. No one, except the most fanatical public power advocates, expects the federal government to shoulder it all.

Dr. William A. Pearl, the Bonneville power administrator, estimates that 7 billion dollars must be invested in generation and transmission facilities to meet the probable growth of the region in the next 20 years.

That will be five times the expenditures of the federal government for those purposes in that region in the past 20 years.

THAT IS WHAT makes the Eisenhower policy of joint contributions of public and private monev so realistic a future policy. The most outstanding example of the application of this partnership policy is in the plan for the John Day dam on the Columbia River. Sen. Cordon is the sponsor of the John day bill in the Senate.

Cordon's opponent is Richard L. Neuberger who is known to many as an author of articles in various national magazines. He is an ardent, left-wing Democrat.

His supporters hope that Neuberger's literary reputation will make up for his lack of achievements in active public affairs.

Friends of Cordon say that, while Neuberger is fairly well known in cities, he means little to the great rural, conservative vote. For national magazines with some exceptions are read mainly in urban communities.

-:-

CORDON IS a solid, hard-working senator who has risen high in the esteem of his colleagues in Washington. Recently he has been elevated to the important chairmanship of the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, a post for which he is splendidly qualified.

No one in Congress is his equal in the mastery of the complex engineering and bookkeeping problems involved in reclamation and hydro-power.

Cordon will be the vivid realization of thousands of Oregonians of what it means to have a left-wing senator They bestowed upon themselves the noted Wayne Morse

Friends of Cordon are asking whether this traditionally conservative state wants "another Morse" Finally, this election has significance because Secretary McKay, the spokesman and advocate of the President's power policies, was formerly the governor of the state.

For all these reasons the election this year in Oregon may well have nationally political and economic significance.

More Leeway for Junior?

By MARK DANA

Mills College at Oakland, Calif., goes in heavily for campus clinics, institutes, discussion forums on varied human welfare problems only indirectly geared to academic education—a practice of out-reach, by the way, which can be recommended to a lot of small colleges over the country which from one decade to another do nothing except exist.

At an assembly of the National Council on Family Relations on the campus the other day, with some vocal representatives of the Child Study Association of America taking part, the theme of how to bring up children got into the discussion agenda. That is all right. Children are part of a family, and their behavior and upbringing are important aspects of any family relations.

Austin H. McCormick, of the University of California staff, had his own say about the "woodshed" treatment of wayward boys. He is against it, and so were some other champions of the so-called modern procedures of "self - expression," the devotees of "child psychology."

Punishing naughty boys via woodshed methods — meaning a razor strap, paddle or switch, or even application of the palm of the hand or back of a hairbrush to the portion of a boy's anatomy made for this purpose — is "primitive," lamented Mr. McCormick.

It is contrary to new child psychology tenets, and therefore barbarous, he was sure. He didn't start an old argument, because it was a forum audience with old-fashioned folk not welcomed, but one can stimulate this old controversy by taking one extremist stand or the other, or even sitting on the fence.

The symbolic woodshed certainly has been waning in recent years, and the number of youngsters definitely delinquent is mounting. Could there be a connection? Spanking may be primitive, but isn't crime even more so?

Ancient Sunken City

By ALEC DE MONTMORENCY

A mysterious sunken city, which scientists speculate may unlock the secrets of the world's oldest civilizations, has been spotted under the waters of Bolivia's 125-mile - long Lake Titicaca.

The discovery was made from the cliffs of Coati Island — which the Incas called the Island of the Moon and where they located their Garden of Eden. A dispatch from La Paz to the newspaper Madrid, published in the Spanish capital, quoted the warden of the island penitentiary, who made the find, that the submerged city is of "monumental" proportions.

Coati Island, which abounds with monuments of uncertain origin, has long been known to have been the cradle of either the Inca race or of the survivors of an earlier civilization virtually unknown to archeology. It is from Titicaca, at 12,500 feet one of the world's highest big lakes, that the founders of the once-powerful Inca empire supposedly emigrated.

Bolivian scientists, recalling that still - undeciphered inscriptions on Coati Island resemble writings found on the South Pacific's Easter Island and in the Indus Valley, are speculating that the newly found city may provide the key to all these lost languages. With depths up to 892 feet, the waters of Titicaca had receded to bring the city into view.

Bolivian scientists pointed out that ancient Egyptian texts speak of a land far to the west inhabited by red men who during prehistoric times colonized both Egypt and Sumeria under the leadership of white, blue-eyed kings. A parallel legend of the Aymara Indians who inhabit the Lake Titicaca territory tells of "white men with long, flowing beards" who lived on Coati Island and furnished the race of Inca emperors.

Other archeologists have reported that the early pharaohs and the Inca chieftains showed similar physical traits.

The Spanish correspondents reported that the Bolivian government, lacking equipment, had no immediate plans to explore the sunken city.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Co-Existence Slugged Again

It seems to us that the question whether Red China is to be allowed to enter the United Nations is definitely eclipsed by the question whether the New York Giants should ever be permitted to re-enter Brooklyn. And there is the related issue, also important to world pace, whether Brooklyn should be readmitted to the Polo Grounds. The recent six-game series was clearly a threat to global order from the standpoint of all stout defenders of "Dem Bums."

Even the trouble in Indochina seemed minor at the time. The cause of world accord was set back for years, it seems to us, and the case is clearly one for Geneva and the East River.

There can be little doubt that Leo Durocher was an aggressor state. He has not even made the pretense that the army employed by him was made up of volunteers. It is folly to talk of better understandings and peace with Flatbush and the Bronx in their present state of belligerence.

We asked 100 Brooklyn rooters whether a state of co-existence between Brooklyn and New York seemed at all possible and 99 replied emphatically in the negative. (The other fellow was pretty incoherent as a result of having attended all the games and gone over them play by play this week.)

Our Inquiring Reporter was around, too, presenting this question to baseball fans: Do you think the answer is the establishment of a 38th Parallel somewhere between the Gotham and Brooklyn end of the Brooklyn Bridge?

Joe Tobin, Flatbush loyal rooter: No. We should throw Durocher out of the U.N. If he is not in the U.N. we should vote him in and then toss him out.

Oscar Bozzle, cornetist, Ebbets Field Symphonic Orchestra: I think the Giants should be partitioned with a North Giant area and a South Giant area. This would keep them fighting among themselves and not be bothering a recognized part of the Free World like Ebbets Field.

Milton Grannick, Brooklyn Citizens League: I charge that Durocher violated our borders, flew over clearly marked boundaries and dropped germs on our pitchers.

Bevins Smoot, Giant fan from away back: All I want to say is, it won't do Dem Bums any good at this point even if they succeed in getting Eisenhower, Churchill and Eden back for another conference.

-:-

We have an unofficial report of a press conference between the Fourth Estate and President Eisenhower.

Mr. Wooker, Beaver Hills Clarion: Mister President, do you think the situation in Asia more alarming than that in the National League?

President: Well, affairs in both areas are disturbing. I regard both Brooklyn and New York as friendly states and have similar hopes for Asia. A showdown may be necessary but I am not prepared for further comment at this time.

Mr. Chidsey, Blythedale Gazette: It has been suggested that in the interest of world peace that Willie Mays be put under some sort of international control and that a plebiscite be arranged to dispose of the Dusty Rhodes' problem. Would you care to comment?

President: Well, now you are asking me to voice an opinion in an extremely complex and dangerous situation. I favor a cooling-off period. Whatever happens in the case of Willie Mays I hope Sen. Knowland will not walk out on it.

Dizzy Dean has been hired as a movie and TV actor and will star with Hermione Gingold, British comedy hit of John Murray Anderson's "Almanac." Dizzy "slud" into the amusement business and we hope he will not get "thrun" out.

Overheard in a restaurant during the Lions' Convention in New York: "He's a Lion and he orders a vegetable dinner!"

Mrs Idabelle Firestone, whose death occurred at 79 last week, married the late Harvey Firestone when he was a boy-wonder salesman for a buggy company. He quit to make hard-rubber tires for "the surreys with the fringe on top" and went on to become one of the greatest tiremakers in the world.

Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey is running on a "McCarthy Must Go" platform . . . This should be one worth watching.

U. S. troops edged to within 2,000 yards—little more than a mile—of the outskirts of the pivot road hub of St. Lo amid a mammoth artillery duel, and closed within a mile or two of the other German road-line bastions of Lessay and Periers.

Thorne Death Ruling Delayed

Pathologists Ask for Time To Study Organs

CHICAGO (AP)—A decision on how mail order heir Montgomery Ward Thorne met his death has been put off for at least two weeks.

A panel of pathologists announced yesterday they will require much additional time to complete their examination of all his vital organs and of veins removed from his arms.

They expect to determine whether punctures in the veins were caused by injections of narcotics shortly before his mysterious death June 19—nine days after he made drastic revisions in his will.

Thorne's body was exhumed Tuesday and the autopsy and preliminary examination made yesterday.

In the rewritten version of his will, Thorne, 20, left three quarters of his near-two-million dollar estate to his sweetheart, Maureen Ragen, and her mother Aleen. His own mother, Marion, who was sole beneficiary under his original will, was left a one-eighth share.

Minor Blaze, Inhalator Run Made by Firemen

Marion city firemen were called out twice during the last 24 hours.

At 8:10 p.m. last night they were called to the Marion County Fairgrounds when sparks from a bonfire set at nearby tree on fire. Mark St. station firemen answered the alarm and reported no loss.

Other run was on an inhalator call to the residence of Mrs. Sylvia Spiggle at 1044 E. Church St. at 8:22 p.m. She had difficulty breathing after taking medicine. The inhalator was used on her for 15 minutes successfully, firemen reported.

Matches for making fire were first made soon after 1830.

Godfrey Fires Staffer, Denies Rift in Troupe

NEW YORK (AP) Television's Arthur Godfrey says he has fired a member of his staff for drunkenness on the job because "that's the one thing I'll not tolerate on this program."

Godfrey made the announcement on his show yesterday but did not disclose who it was. According to rumors at CBS, it was a writer rather than a performer.

Said Godfrey on his program:

"I fired a man yesterday that I told the last time—which was the seventh time—that I wouldn't take it again. Seven times I took it and I said, 'Once more and that's the end.'

Godfrey denied reports that he may break up his TV team because of off-stage romances.

"There is no girl on this show whose job is in jeopardy," he said.

"I don't give a hoot whom they're in love with, whom they marry, whom they divorce, whom they have babies with.

"I just hope that if they do it's with their husbands and everything is fine.'

Tax Relief Given Public Employes

WASHINGTON (AP)— A Senate-House conference committee has approved a more liberal Senate plan giving a special tax cut to millions of public employes who may retire before 65.

The action was one of five important decisions and scores of minor ones late yesterday as the committee pitched into the big task of settling hundreds of differences between the House and Senate versions of President Eisenhower's tax reform program.

Only a few hours earlier Eisenhower had opened his news conference by volunteering a plea for "prompt action" on the tax bill, which he has called the cornerstone of his entire domestic program.

Some sources said the pace yesterday indicates the conference committee may complete action this week on all but one issue in the bill, running almost 1,000 pages.

But that one issue—how much to cut income taxes on dividends received by stockholders—seemed likely to be deadlocked for some time.

JAPANESE CARGO

TOKYO (UP) — Volume of cargo carried by Japan's oceangoing vessels increased 24 per cent during the 1953-54 fiscal year, but proceeds jumped only one and a half per cent, according to the transportation ministry. The relatively small increase in earnings compared with the sharp jump in tonnage carried was due to a 30 per cent decrease in freight rates as a whole, the ministry said.

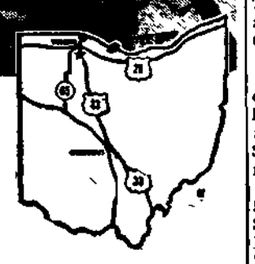
Let's Explore Ohio



It is easy to teach a youngster Ohio's history as we visit on our motor outings the spots where history was made. This picture shows a view of Ft. Meigs monument at Perrysburg where, in the War of 1812, an American force stopped the British in their attempt to get a foothold in this state. Here, beside the Maumee River, are the military cemeteries in the 46-acre State Memorial Park where are also found attractive picnic grounds that appeal to all members of the family. Three Ohio engagements stand out in the War of 1812 as decisive. They are Commodore Perry's victory off Put-in-Bay in Lake Erie, the siege of Ft. Meigs and the battle at Ft. Stephenson at Fremont.
